At Request Of Citizens' Group

Special Vote Due Jan. 24 On Southern Local Levy

SALINEVILLE—The Southern Local School District Board of Education Wednesday night, at the request of a citizens' committee, approved plans to arrange a special election Jan. 24 on a proposed new 4.5-mill operating levy.

The committee reported it had solicited about $1,000 to date to pay for the election — which will cost some $1,300.

The committee, for which James Raffle of Salineville and Arthur Shasteen of near Lisbon were spokesmen, asked the board to seek the vote to provide needed funds for the district.

THE BOARD earlier this month had delayed plans to close three elementary schools and establish a double - shift class system for economy purposes.

At last night's meeting, attended by 75, the board agreed to a request of the committee to retain the current regular schedule and school operations should the levy pass, although funds from the measure would not be available until 1968.

Charles Allison, president of the board, suggested the committee remain active regardless of whether the levy is approved.

The board also approved a resolution stressing the board alone has the authority to close schools, after it was reported there was some misunderstanding about the responsibility for decision resting with the school superintendent.

Fred Johnson of Summitville declared he believes "the school district is in financial distress," adding he would "actively give support to the proposed levy."

Allison said he commended all teachers in the district for "providing education under trying conditions."

Teachers met early in the evening to discuss some statements which had been made at previous citizens' committee sessions. Members of the committee last night assured the teachers "no effort was made by knowledgeable residents to downgrade the faculty."

—:—

IN OTHER action, the board discussed plans for Title One programs for next year, including pre-school instruction, typing and music along with a planned new reading program.

A resolution was approved expressing appreciation to the Columbiana County Motor Club for sponsoring a bus drivers' dinner.

The resignation of Hugh Smith of Wellsville R. D. 1, bus driver, was accepted, and a list of applicants for substitute cooks was reviewed.

Robert Taylor, field representative of the Ohio Association of School Employes, discussed the functions of his group to which some 28 Southern Local noncertified employes belong.

Mrs. Joan Dixon, board clerk, reported an inadvertent error in an information bulletin which indicated there was bonded indebtedness on the No. 16 School. She said the indebtedness was on the Highlandtown school.

The citizens committee will hold a meeting at the Salineville School Monday night at 7.

The board will meet Jan. 11.

LBJ Seeks New Opening For Talks To End War

Would Halt Reinforcing Of Troops

'Double Purpose' Strategy Tied To White House Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is seeking in Christmas truce proposals a new opening for talks with the Communists on ending the war in Vietnam.

Johnson made known through a White House comment Wednesday night that he was ready to discuss an extended cease-fire in Vietnam, including a freeze on troop reinforcements "if the other side is responsive."

When press secretary Bill D. Moyers was asked whether that meant the United States was ready to talk over with the other side in the war the specific issues of an extended cease-fire and a "stand fast" by both sides he replied, "Yes."

Behind this new White House move lies a double purpose strategy, reflecting some guarded speculation among top officials here in recent weeks that holiday truce maneuvers might possibly open up some interesting possibilities for peace talks of much broader significance.

One major purpose behind the President's willingness to have discussions on the length and conditions of a cease-fire, therefore, is to find out whether the Communist side is willing to exchange views directly or indirectly on any subject and whether it would be willing to go beyond the immediate issues into consideration of peacemaking.

The second apparent purpose of the President's strategy is to make certain that the United States does not show signs of lagging in developing peace possibilities, however slender, and that if current efforts to prolong the cease-fire fail, the Communists will have to take the blame before the world.

Opposition to an extended cease-fire was expressed Wednesday by Sen. Milton R. Young, R-N.D., who recently returned from an inspection trip to South Vietnam. He said Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U. S. commander in Vietnam, and South Vietnamese officials also oppose lengthening the holiday cease-fires.

Coal And Atomic Power Units Due

In a move designed to guarantee a plentiful supply of electric power for decades to come, the American Electric Power System has taken major steps toward both strengthening its present coal-based steam generation and supplementing it with nuclear power.

The AEP System, the nation's largest investor - owned supplier of electric energy, today announced plans to begin the immediate construction of a 1.6-million-kilowatt, coal-burning steam-electric plant on the Ohio River about nine miles south of Moundsville, W. Va. Its cost has been estimated at $200 million.

AT THE same time, the utility system announced it is seeking bids for the construction of a major nuclear power plant in southwestern Michigan on the shore of Lake Michigan. Cost of the entire project, including the nuclear facilities, is estimated at $130 million. It would represent the AEP System's entry into the ownership of nuclear facilities after a decade of research.

Donald C. Cook, president of AEP and of the Ohio Power Co., announced the two actions and emphasized that both fuels — coal and nuclear — will play important roles in the utility system's future.

He said that the Appalachian Power Co. will construct the AEP System's largest power plant on a mine-mouth site on the east bank of the Ohio River near Moundsville. The site is ap-

Car, Pickup Truck Collide Head-On In Rt. 62 Mishap

Two motorists were injured, one critically, in a head-on collision of a car and a pickup truck Wednesday at 4:15 p. m. on Route 62 a mile west of Route 534 in the northern section of Columbiana County.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the crash involved a 1964 sedan operated by Charles Costa, 36, of Louisville and a 1966 pickup truck operated by Paul Richard Spack, 29, of Alliance.

Costa was headed west and Spack east when they collided, officers said, pointing out the accident still is under investigation.

Costa is in "critical" condition at Salem Central Clinic with a fractured nose, lacerations of the right eyelid and contusions of the right eye. Spack was treated at the Clinic and then transferred to South Side Hospital, Youngstown, for surgery for head injuries. He was listed as "serious" today.

Martin Lee Huff, 22, of Cameron, W. Va., suffered minor injuries when his car struck a guard rail along Route 39, three miles west of Wellsville, Wednesday morning. He was eastbound when he lost control and went off the highway, officers said.

A United Local School bus loaded with 60 children and operated by Richard M. Nichol, 35, of Lisbon R. D. 4 collided with a car operated by Jack C. Haley, 24, of Kensington R. D. 1 on Route 9, three miles south of Salem, Wednesday at 8:15 a. m.

Officers said Nichol was headed west on the Fairview School Rd. and pulled onto Route 9 into the path of Haley. None of the children was hurt. Nichol was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

Post Resigned By Patrolman At Wellsville

The resignation of Patrolman Robert Wellington from the Wellsville police force was announced today by Chief John Hephner.

Although his resignation officially does not become effective until Jan. 24, Wellington completed his work Wednesday afternoon.

Hephner said Wellington has 14 days accumulated time, which will take him through to the end of the year, plus his 1967 vacation time.

Wellington has served on the force 15 years. For the last two years he has been policing parking meters as well as serving on patrol duty.

Wellington, who resides on Commerce St., gave no reason for resigning, the chief added.

This is the only vacancy on the force.

$45,000 Set For Land On Beaver Creek

The State Controlling Board at Columbus has released $45,000 for the acquisition of 722 acres needed to link up separate state-owned park sites along Beaver Creek.

Floyd Lower, secretary of the Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council, commenting on the announcement today, said: "Good. That's what we've been trying to get them to do for years."

Lower pointed out that not even the manager of Beaver Creek State Park knows at this time what sites the state has in mind, since the Department of Natural Resources real estate division works directly with the land owners.

The $45,000 is from some $460,000 appropriated for Beaver Creek land purchase and development in the biennium ending next July 1, Lower said.

White House Staff Ratings Face Changes

Watson, Califano, Rostow Certain To Rate As 'Big 3'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The resignation of Bill D. Moyers as White House press secretary will lead to changes in the ranking of White House aides and mark the end of a gradual 100 per cent turnover in top White House staff jobs.

Moyers, leaving Feb. 1 to become publisher of the Long Island newspaper Newsday, was regarded at one time as the most powerful and influential of presidential aides. He sometimes was referred to as being "first among equals."

With his departure, three other special assistants — all getting salaries of $30,000 a year — seem almost certain to be ranked as the "big three" of the White House staff. They are W. Marvin Watson, Joseph A. Califano Jr. and Walt W. Rostow.

Another high-rated special assistant, and the most recent addition to that elite roster, is Robert E. Kintner, former president of the National Broadcasting Co.

In time Watson, Califano or Kintner could emerge as a new "first among equals." Rostow hardly could be expected to figure in any such competition because he is a specialist in foreign affairs — too narrow a base on which to build a position of pre-eminence.

Watson is physically closest to the President. Occupying an adjoining office, he is appointments secretary and resident specialist in political matters.

Califano, a young man who once was troubleshooter for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, often plays the same role for Johnson. He also has a major hand in shaping new legislation.

Rostow, a State Department graduate, is Johnson's special assistant for national security affairs. He occupies the desk and does the work of McGeorge Bundy, who resigned last February to become president of the Ford Foundation. In announcing Rostow's appointment, Johnson insisted he was not a replacement for Bundy.

Teamsters Hit Court Decision

Hoffa Brings End To Wildcat Strike

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters President James R. Hoffa returned to Detroit today to quell a wildcat strike by members of his home local who are protesting a recent Supreme Court decision that will send Hoffa to jail.

Hoffa flew from Chicago to Detroit where more than 750 sign-waving Teamsters assembled at a "back-to-work" meeting called by the Teamsters chief to cut short the 24-hour walkout of truck drivers.

Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh had appealed by telephone and telegraph for Hoffa to intercede in the walkout.

Cavanagh had warned Hoffa, who was in Chicago on union business, that the proposed day-long refusal to work would cripple Detroit. Some 45,000 Teamsters work in and around the Motor City.

By daybreak, hundreds of Teamsters drivers failed to report for work in the Detroit area.

There were unconfirmed reports that other cities might be similarly struck, but truck traffic appeared normal today at major terminals in other states.

A group of 10 to 15 men at a Detroit terminal attacked Associated Press photographer Al Quinn and this reporter, smashing a camera and kicking dents in the side of Quinn's car in an attempt to confiscate a roll of film.

"This is really the Teamsters," one of the attackers said.

After a brief pummeling, in which Quinn was kicked several times, they let us go.

The Teamsters revolt erupted Wednesday night in what had been scheduled as a routine business meeting for Teamsters Local 299, Hoffa's home local.

A motion from the floor brought the 3,000 members at the meeting shouting and voting almost unanimously in favor of a 24-hour work stoppage, starting at midnight.

Three Of U.S. Craft Downed In Hanoi Area

No Evidence Seen Of Yanks Bombing Nonmilitary Sites

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — U.S. warplanes straddled Hanoi with bombs for the second straight day Wednesday, the U.S. Command announced, but intense ground fire and a missile-firing MIG shot three of the American raiders out of the skies.

A State Department spokesman in Washington said the department had no evidence to confirm Communist reports that the American planes bombed nonmilitary targets and inflicted civilian casualties in Hanoi itself.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers returned to the same two targets they hit Tuesday to rain more explosives on a sprawling truck depot five miles south of Hanoi and a major railroad marshalling yard six miles northeast of the Communist capital. Pilots claimed heavy damage to both installations.

Navy planes also attacked seven surface-to-air missile sites in the Hanoi area and reported destroying a radar van at one site miles south-southwest of the city. Navy pilots also reported silencing two antiaircraft gun sites 14 miles from Hanoi.

During the raids, more than a score of MIG21s and MIG17s were encountered and a MIG21 downed an Air Force F105 Thunderchief 50 miles southwest of Hanoi. The pilot was rescued.

Two Navy jets were brought down by groundfire, the U.S. Command reported, and both pilots were listed as missing.

With these losses, the total of American planes reported lost in the air war against the Communist North reached 446.

Outlook Horrible, She Says

Mrs. Kennedy Will Seek Injunction To Halt Book

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy says she is prepared to relive her grief and shock after the assassination of her husband in order to legally block publication of a book about the tragedy.

The outlook for her is horrible, she said.

The book, which the Kennedy family had authorized, is "Death of a President," by William Manchester. It describes the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963, and the events in the days immediately afterward.

Mrs. Kennedy calls it "tasteless and distorted."

"As horrible as a trial will be," she says, "it now seems clear that my only redress is to ask the courts to enforce my rights."

Her attorneys said they are preparing papers seeking a temporary injunction to stop the book's publication and would file them in two or three days. Summonses already have been served on Harper & Row, book publisher, and Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look magazine.

The magazine, which reportedly paid Manchester $650,000 for the serial rights to his book, scheduled publication of the first article for Jan. 10. Harper & Row plans to bring out the book next April.

The impending lawsuit, and a mention of "inaccurate and unfair references to other individuals" in a statement by Mrs. Kennedy about Manchester's book, may throw some light on long-standing reports of friction between the Kennedys and President Johnson. It assertedly began on the plane that brought Kennedy's body from Dallas to Washington after the assassination.

Reports On Yearend Prospects

Mood In Auto Industry Summed Up By Word If

DETROIT (AP) — With reports on yearend prospects in from three of the nation's four major automakers, the mood in the industry appeared today best summed up in one word — if.

That was the theme of review-outlook statements Wednesday by Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., and Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors Corp.

They closely followed the tone of an earlier yearend statement by Frederick Donner, chairman of General Motors. The yearend statement by Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend was due late today and was expected to make the industry uncertainty unanimous.

Traditionally the most outspoken of the auto chieftains, Ford talked with newsmen at his annual review-outlook meeting of his hopes for labor peace in the upcoming contract year, resurgence from a current sales slump and renewal of consumer confidence.

He injected a new cause for uncertainty when he became the first top auto executive to predict that some safety standards that may be required by the federal government in 1968 models would make it impossible to build certain cars, forcing some plants to close down.

Ford added that no matter what the government finally requires when it publishes its list Jan. 31 of the safety features mandatory for 1968 models, the consumer will have to bear the cost.

The automakers have until Jan. 3 to reply to the 23 safety standards suggested last month by Dr. William Haddon, first highway safety chief, under the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy says she is prepared to relive her grief and shock after the assassination of her husband in order to legally block publication of a book about the tragedy.

The outlook for her is horrible, she said.

The book, which the Kennedy family had authorized, is "Death of a President," by William Manchester. It describes the assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Nov. 22, 1963, and the events in the days immediately afterward.

Mrs. Kennedy calls it "tasteless and distorted."

"As horrible as a trial will be," she says, "it now seems clear that my only redress is to ask the courts to enforce my rights."

Her attorneys said they are preparing papers seeking a temporary injunction to stop the book's publication and would file them in two or three days. Summonses already have been served on Harper & Row, book publisher, and Cowles Communications, Inc., publishers of Look magazine.

The magazine, which reportedly paid Manchester $650,000 for the serial rights to his book, scheduled publication of the first article for Jan. 10. Harper & Row plans to bring out the book next April.

The impending lawsuit, and a mention of "inaccurate and unfair references to other individuals" in a statement by Mrs. Kennedy about Manchester's book, may throw some light on long-standing reports of friction between the Kennedys and President Johnson. It assertedly began on the plane that brought Kennedy's body from Dallas to Washington after the assassination.

Reports On Yearend Prospects

Mood In Auto Industry Summed Up By Word If

DETROIT (AP) — With reports on yearend prospects in from three of the nation's four major automakers, the mood in the industry appeared today best summed up in one word — if.

That was the theme of review-outlook statements Wednesday by Henry Ford II, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., and Roy Abernethy, president of American Motors Corp.

They closely followed the tone of an earlier yearend statement by Frederick Donner, chairman of General Motors. The yearend statement by Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend was due late today and was expected to make the industry uncertainty unanimous.

Traditionally the most outspoken of the auto chieftains, Ford talked with newsmen at his annual review-outlook meeting of his hopes for labor peace in the upcoming contract year, resurgence from a current sales slump and renewal of consumer confidence.

He injected a new cause for uncertainty when he became the first top auto executive to predict that some safety standards that may be required by the federal government in 1968 models would make it impossible to build certain cars, forcing some plants to close down.

Ford added that no matter what the government finally requires when it publishes its list Jan. 31 of the safety features mandatory for 1968 models, the consumer will have to bear the cost.

The automakers have until Jan. 3 to reply to the 23 safety standards suggested last month by Dr. William Haddon, first highway safety chief, under the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

National Conference Opens

Governors See Tax Hike As Revenue-Sharing Bar

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP)—A majority of the nation's governors willing to state an opinion believe that a tax increase to finance the Vietnam war would eliminate any state - sharing of federal revenues.

Gov. William M. Guy, North Dakota Democrat who heads the National Governors' Conference opening here today, conceded in an interview he does not expect the tax-sharing plan to go into effect until the Vietnam war, with its drain on the national budget, is ended.

This governors' interim conference, at a summer resort hotel, was called primarily on the insistence of Michigan Gov. George W. Romney. He said he hadnot been able to report fully at last July's governors' meeting in Los Angeles on his special committee's investigation of possible sharing of federal tax collections with states and local communities.

As a potential candidate for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination, Romney is suspected in some quarters of having a political gimmick going for him in this tax-sharing business.

An Associated Press canvass of the governors in advance of this meeting indicated many of those willing to respond felt that an increase in taxes to pay for the Vietnam war was almost inevitable.

But some respondents wanted spending cut first.

Gov. John A. Love of Colorado, new chairman of the Republican Governors' Association, said the first thing to do was cut government spending.

"I have the belief, though, that even with great restraint in spending in the effort to balance the budget, there will have to be new taxes," he said. "But there should be careful study in advance of the effect a tax increase might have on the economy."

Others in the cut-spending category included:

South Carolina Democrat Robert E. McNair — He hopes there can be sufficient reduction in nonessential expenditures to offset the Vietnam cost. "However, if it can't be done, the tax increase would be the only answer because we cannot increase the deficit."

Hawaii Democrat John A. Burns — Some budget balancing steps must be taken to combat inflation, but it is not unreasonable "that some share of the Vietnam war cost must be born by future generations."

Five other respondents said they thought taxes probably would be increased: Democratic Govs. Jack M. Campbell of New Mexico, Calvin L. Rampton of Utah and Warren E. Hearnes of Missouri, and Republicans Gov. Clifford T. Hansen of Wyoming and Gov.-elect Tom McCall of Oregon.

A Tiger By The Tail

Great Britain has a Rhodesian tiger by the tail and doesn't know how to let go without tarnishing its image or toppling its shaky economic structure.

Its oil embargo having failed and its inability to cope with the Rhodesian problem unilaterally having been clearly established, Britain has won United Nations approval for sanctions against the African nation, predominantly black but ruled by a white minority.

THIS IS THE POINT at which the United States, already perilously occupied in Vietnam, comes into the picture.

Even before the U.N. Security Council voted sanctions, President Johnson had indicated this country's willingness to participate.

The immediate question is just what form sanctions should take and how they can be made effective. The long range concern is where will they lead if Rhodesia is not crushed economically.

The Republic of South Africa, which was a major factor in helping Rhodesia combat the oil embargo, now looms as a fly in the ointment in the imposition of sanctions.

South Africa will not go along with the U.N. edict and Britain is hesitant to impose any blockade, even if she could effectively organize one, which she can't, because economic considerations would dictate no move that would cut off trade so vitally important to the British economy.

This puts the United Kingdom squarely in the middle. Realistically, she would like to see the whole problem somehow quietly go away. But it won't because the black population in 17 African nations will not let it go away. They will keep Britain under constant pressure to go all the way and force Rhodesia to her knees.

It is quite obvious that Britain does not have the inclination or the resources to overthrow the Ian Smith government if sanctions fail. And sanctions cannot succeed unless the United States puts the weight of its seapower into a blockade. Britain will not and cannot do it.

If Rhodesia withstands whatever sanctions are enforced against her, the cry then will be for military action.

WITH TRADE AND her economic position more important to Britain than almost anything else, there is scant reason for believing she would pursue any meaningful pressure of arms.

If we get too deeply involved now, we will be sure to find ourselves entrapped once again, just as we were in Vietnam. Fortunately, the President cannot use military sanctions without approval of Congress.

Britain has stood aloof from many American adventures in trying to police the world. It's about time we permit her to solve her own problem in Rhodesia.

In her absention on the Security Council sanctions vote, France hit the nail on the head with this explanation:

"This is an internal British matter."

Take Off The Handcuffs

In a recent ruling, the Supreme Court gives an indication it has stopped, at least temporarily, a frightening trend.

Decisions in recent months have leaned more toward protecting criminals than protecting the public.

It was beginning to look like the Supreme Court justices were determined to put the hand cuffs on law enforcement officials instead of criminals.

SOMEWHERE ALONG the line of "constitutional rights" thinking, someone forgot the rights of Mr. Private Citizen.

The criminal will use every legal loophole and ever moral argument he can find to keep from being punished for his calculated, brutal attacks on law-abiding citizens.

Law enforcement agencies must have some means of combatting bandits, rapists, muggers, narcotics pushers, embezzlers, con-men and murders.

In its latest decision, the Supreme Court cautiously upheld the use of informers and undercover agents to bring convictions of the guilty.

Although the means were displeasing to some of the justices, they were upheld. No one would have been surprised had the court tossed out the convictions on the grounds that the privacy of the men had been violated.

OFFICERS MUST use some cloak-and-dagger tactics to get the goods on clever criminals who are protected by extra-sharp attorneys.

We must remember we are dealing with men who are dedicated to making a dishonest living from those who make a living honestly.

It's a little idiotic for a man who has broken every rule in the book to scream "unfair" when he is hauled into court.

We have our fingers crossed for additional rulings from the Supreme Court to help in the struggle against rising crime rates.

By Martin Miller

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

That was quite a piece you wrote about the necessity of delegating duties so that "One person with know-how can multiply his influence tenfold through the use of assistants."

You said, "We are being forced to collectivize our skills and capabilities.

"The era of the great I-am is ended. Long live teamwork!"

You mentioned as examples teachers' aides, nurses' aides and assistants to doctors.

Somehow your discussion reminded me of the age-old friendly argument over who really keeps the pot boiling—the fire tender or the chef?

You did say, "It is not necessary for every fighting man to be a general to wage a war."

So who is more important: the generals or the privates? If you know the answer to that give me a call, collect. That is where the teamwork comes in.

This give and take between the likes of the guy who tends the fire and the chef who cooks the stew is basic in our modern world and provides unlimited speculation.

On a steamship you can hear endless carping over whether it is the deck crew or the engine crew who really keeps the vessel going.

On a newspaper it is the advertising department, the circulation department, the mechanical department and the editorial department which claim priority.

If you back a Washington official into a corner he will admit he wouldn't be there if it weren't for the voters and taxpayers. Sort of like Casey Stengel, when he won one of many of his baseball pennants, "I never coulda done it without players."

It must have been Sitting Bull, Tecumseh or Pontiac who said, "There are too many chiefs and not enough Indians.

As an Anglophile, Twill, you must know that in England a short winter jacket that reaches only to the waist is called a "bum freezer." Webster's Dictionary defines "bum" as "buttocks."

When you stop to think about it the most amazing thing about FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, 71, is that in the 42 years he has held his job almost every year he has told us crime has been increasing and he has been fighting a losing battle. Who else could ever fight a losing battle that long?

Here is a quote from the preface to Audel's Automobile Guide of 1915:

"There are no hard and fast rules which can be laid down to insure a person becoming proficient in driving an automobile. Some people have the erroneous idea that only those who have received a first class mechanical training can become good operators.

"A man who is a first class horseman will usually make a first class driver of an automobile, or, in other words, the man who shows mercy to his beast will show mercy to his car.

"This type of driver does not belong to that class generally found at the side of the road with something broken or out of order."

With your exemplary driving record Twill, we can only conclude that you must have been a first class horseman.

Personally, I always stop at "Deer Crossing" signs and look both ways.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Profiles In Courage

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

My friend Murray is the managing editor of one of the largest newspapers in the country. When the President of the United States gets mad he calls Murray, and Murray just shrugs it off.

Art Buchwald

My friend Jocko is one of the top criminal lawyers in the United States. In a courtroom he is a tiger, making both judge and jury sit up and listen in hushed respect.

My friend Harry heads a billion-dollar trade association and his word is law when it comes to the censorship of motion pictures.

My friend Sam is chief of protocol to the most powerful nation in the world, and he is on a first-name basis with almost every head of state.

My friend Sydney is the press secretary to the leader of a country that numbers over 190 million Americans in population.

ALL THESE friends have one thing in common. Their wives get angry when they watch pro football on television.

Last Sunday, Murray, Jocko, Harry, Sam and Sydney were invited over to my house to watch the Washington Redskins play the Dallas Cowboys in living color on TV.

Each of them said he'd be delighted to come and was looking forward to the afternoon.

At 3:45 p.m. Murray arrived. "It's good you came early," I said. "The game doesn't start until 4."

"I have to leave at 4," Murray said. "I just want to see the kickoff."

"But Murray," I said, "you can't leave that early. It's going to be a good game. I'll call your wife and tell her you'll be home at 7."

"Don't do that!" he shouted. "She doesn't know I'm here. I told her I was going out to buy her a Christmas present."

"What kind of a man are you," I said, "that you won't even stand up for your rights to watch pro football.

"I can watch pro football any time I want to," he said angerly. "But I'd rather spend the time carrying beds upstairs and listening to my kids fighting in the living room. Wouldn't anybody?"

Before I could answer, the phone rang. It was Jocko. He was whispering. "I can't get out of the door. She says if I got time to go over to your house to watch pro football, I have time to paint the playroom."

"What did you tell her?"

"I said I had only one day a week to relax and I wasn't going to spend it messing around in the basement."

"What color are you going to paint the playroom?"

"Light green," he replied and hung up.

JUST THEN Harry came in. He threw his overcoat on the couch.

"Did you have any trouble with your wife?" I asked him.

"Ahe you kidding? I have a wonderful wife. Anything I want to do is fine with her. She's a jewel, the dearest woman a man could have."

"Where are you going?" I asked him as he started putting on his coat.

"Just talking about her makes me homesick. I think I'll spend the afternoon with her instead of watching the ball game."

"That means she won't let you stay?"

He put his muffler around his throat. "Let me know what the score was."

Sam was the next one to arrive. He didn't seem to be worried a bit, until the phone rang. "Is Sam there?" his wife wanted to know.

"I'm not sure," I said. I'll look around."

Sam picked up the phone. "All right, all right. A loaf of bread and two quarts of milk. Well, what did you think I went out for?"

Sidney didn't even bother to call, so I found myself watching the game alone. But not for long.

My wife came in and said, "As long as no one is here, you can carry down all the toys from the attic for the Salvation Army."

There may be a lot of hawks in Washington, but even when it comes to watching pro football you'll find nothing but doves in every home.

Moyers Moves

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Bill D. Moyers got $30,000 a year as President Johnson's press secretary and after his brother committed suicide last September friends began telling him he ought to look out for himself.

Moyers is 32 and his brother, James H. Moyers, a widely liked but much more inconspicuous man, was also a very hardworking Johnson aide. He was 39 when he died.

Bill Moyers, with chronic ulcers and bright blue eyes, has been in a kind of Johnson alter ego. He labored endless hours. He got involved in all kinds of White House business, foreign and domestic.

HE COULD speak with great confidence about what the President had on his mind which, in this case, took some confidence.

He was always on hand and totally dedicated. And he was always so cool, so composed that after watching him for months you'd ask yourself: "Does anything bother him? Does anything get under his skin?"

But he has a wife and three children and almost from the time he became Johnson's press secretary in July 1965 — he had been with Johnson almost continuously since 1959 — there were rumors this was just a stepping stone.

No one ever seemed to know for sure where he wanted to go, but only that he was ambitious. There were rumors, unconfirmed, that he'd like to be an ambassador, that he'd like to go into politics.

In either direction Johnson — so long as he was in the White House — could have been a big help. But the months passed, Moyers stayed, so did the ulcers, so did the fixed salary of $30,000, and there was the brother dead at 39, and, as it turned out, he was seriously thinking of doing better for himself, at least financially.

Wednesday came the news: He was leaving Johnson and the White House to become publisher of Long Island's Newsday, the country's largest suburban daily, with a circulation of 415,000.

ALTHOUGH the salary wasn't disclosed, it can be assumed Moyers will get a lot more than $30,000.

The news of Moyers' new job was hardly off the wire before the Washington guessing game began:

Was money the real reason for his going into publishing or did he have inside information that Johnson would not seek a second term and that now was the best time to make the best kind of deal he could for himself?

That same question about Johnson and the second term was being asked before Moyers' resignation was announced and will continue to be asked until there is some change in Johnson's political attitude which for months now has seemed almost indifferent.

This 'n That

The largest sheep "ranch" in the world is one in the northwestern part of South Australia, which grazes between 60,000 and 70,000 sheep over an area of 2,329,500 acres.

The most numerous of all birds is Wilson's petrel, which with a length of only seven inches is also the smallest of all sea birds. It is found as far south as Antarctica.

The largest bicycle - manufacturing plant in the world is at Nottingham, England, whose 9,500 employes produce more than a million bicycles a year.

Budget 'Gap'

By David Lawrence

Administration Maneuvering Hit

Attention is slowly but surely centering on the "credibility gap"—a suspicion by the public that the administration isn't "levelling" with the people on financial facts and other important information to which citizens are entitled. Nothing is more conducive to weakening the confidence of the electorate in an incumbent administration than the latter's failure to disclose the truth, irrespective of whether it's palatabie or unpalatable.

There's beginning, for instance, to be complaint from the press that the budget is being misrepresented. The Wall Street Journal editorially comments that "budgetary trickery sometimes comes home to roost."

The latest criticism has developed out of the belated announcement by President Johnson that he would request a supplemental appropriation of 9 to 10 billion dollars for the Vietnam War.

IT'S ASKED why the government waited so long to make known its policy and in the meantime permitted the nondefense estimates to grow. The Journals editorial adds:

"Why, then, did the administration make such a colossal budget blunder?. . .

"We do not necessarily mean to say that the administration consciously underestimated defense costs to facilitate passage of further social-welfare appropriations. But it is plain that the wishful thinking displayed in the Defense Department estimates could have resulted from intense pressures to hold military estimates to a minimum for domestic political reasons."

The Washington Post likewise refers to budgetary manipulation as it says editorially:

"Two weeks ago people close to the White House were speaking darkly of administrative budget expenditures in excess of 127 billion dollars for fiscal 1967 and outlays as high as 143 billion dollars for fiscal 1968. One now wonders whether those large numbers were released as part of the budget game in which the difference between the highest and wildest estimate of expenditures and the final figure is chalked up to economy in government.

SOME IDEA of the sensational rise in governmental expenditures in recent years can be derived from looking at a table of what has happened to government finances in the Kennedy and Johnson administrations. The yearly totals are from what is called the "administrative or "bookkeeping" budget, which omits recipts and payments out of Social Security and other trust funds.

The figures for the first six years given below are from the U.S. Budget Bureau, and those for 1967 and 1968 are a conservative minimum as estimated by private economists. These estimates of expenditures for two years are considerably under the figures "leaked out recently by the administration:

Fiscal Year	Income (Billions)	Outgo (Billions)	Deficit (Billions)
1961	77.7	81.5	3.9
1962	81.4	87.8	6.4
1963	86.4	92.6	6.3
1964	88.5	97.7	8.2
1965	93.1	96.5	3.4
1966	104.7	107.0	2.3
1967 (Estimate)	117.0	125.0	8.0
1968 (Estimate)	119.0	131.0	12.0

The custom in the past has been to ask for maximum amounts for defense outlays while keeping down nonmilitary expenses.

UNDER THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION, there has been a tendency to underestimate military expenses and then ask for supplemental appropriations at the end of a year. Meanwhile, the rate of nonmilitary spending actually keeps going upward. This has shown a rise of 22.2 billion dollars in six years, which is about 2 billion more than the increase in military spending.

The sooner the administration discloses all the facts about its budgetary procedures and begins to take an interest in cutting down some of the Great Society and other programs—which are worthy but not necessarily imperative during a war period—the quicker will the confidence of the nation be restored and the "credibility gap" overcome.

A Tiger By The Tail

Great Britain has a Rhodesian tiger by the tail and doesn't know how to let go without tarnishing its image or toppling its shaky economic structure.

Its oil embargo having failed and its inability to cope with the Rhodesian problem unilaterally having been clearly established, Britain has won United Nations approval for sanctions against the African nation, predominantly black but ruled by a white minority.

THIS IS THE POINT at which the United States, already perilously occupied in Vietnam, comes into the picture.

Even before the U.N. Security Council voted sanctions, President Johnson had indicated this country's willingness to participate.

The immediate question is just what form sanctions should take and how they can be made effective. The long range concern is where will they lead if Rhodesia is not crushed economically.

The Republic of South Africa, which was a major factor in helping Rhodesia combat the oil embargo, now looms as a fly in the ointment in the imposition of sanctions.

South Africa will not go along with the U.N. edict and Britain is hesitant to impose any blockade, even if she could effectively organize one, which she can't, because economic considerations would dictate no move that would cut off trade so vitally important to the British economy.

This puts the United Kingdom squarely in the middle. Realistically, she would like to see the whole problem somehow quietly go away. But it won't because the black population in 17 African nations will not let it go away. They will keep Britain under constant pressure to go all the way and force Rhodesia to her knees.

It is quite obvious that Britain does not have the inclination or the resources to overthrow the Ian Smith government if sanctions fail. And sanctions cannot succeed unless the United States puts the weight of its seapower into a blockade. Britain will not and cannot do it.

If Rhodesia withstands whatever sanctions are enforced against her, the cry then will be for military action.

WITH TRADE AND her economic position more important to Britain than almost anything else, there is scant reason for believing she would pursue any meaningful pressure of arms.

If we get too deeply involved now, we will be sure to find ourselves entrapped once again, just as we were in Vietnam. Fortunately, the President cannot use military sanctions without approval of Congress.

Britain has stood aloof from many American adventures in trying to police the world. It's about time we permit her to solve her own problem in Rhodesia.

In her absention on the Security Council sanctions vote, France hit the nail on the head with this explanation:

"This is an internal British matter."

Take Off The Handcuffs

In a recent ruling, the Supreme Court gives an indication it has stopped, at least temporarily, a frightening trend.

Decisions in recent months have leaned more toward protecting criminals than protecting the public.

It was beginning to look like the Supreme Court justices were determined to put the hand cuffs on law enforcement officials instead of criminals.

SOMEWHERE ALONG the line of "constitutional rights" thinking, someone forgot the rights of Mr. Private Citizen.

The criminal will use every legal loophole and ever moral argument he can find to keep from being punished for his calculated, brutal attacks on law-abiding citizens.

Law enforcement agencies must have some means of combatting bandits, rapists, muggers, narcotics pushers, embezzlers, con-men and murders.

In its latest decision, the Supreme Court cautiously upheld the use of informers and undercover agents to bring convictions of the guilty.

Although the means were displeasing to some of the justices, they were upheld. No one would have been surprised had the court tossed out the convictions on the grounds that the privacy of the men had been violated.

OFFICERS MUST use some cloak-and-dagger tactics to get the goods on clever criminals who are protected by extra-sharp attorneys.

We must remember we are dealing with men who are dedicated to making a dishonest living from those who make a living honestly.

It's a little idiotic for a man who has broken every rule in the book to scream "unfair" when he is hauled into court.

We have our fingers crossed for additional rulings from the Supreme Court to help in the struggle against rising crime rates.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

That was quite a piece you wrote about the necessity of delegating duties so that "One person with know-how can multiply his influence tenfold through the use of assistants."

You said, "We are being forced to collectivize our skills and capabilities.

"The era of the great I-am is ended. Long live teamwork!"

You mentioned as examples teachers' aides, nurses' aides and assistants to doctors.

Somehow your discussion reminded me of the age-old friendly argument over who really keeps the pot boiling—the fire tender or the chef?

You did say, "It is not necessary for every fighting man to be a general to wage a war."

So who is more important: the generals or the privates? If you know the answer to that give me a call, collect. That is where the teamwork comes in.

This give and take between the likes of the guy who tends the fire and the chef who cooks the stew is basic in our modern world and provides unlimited speculation.

On a steamship you can hear endless carping over whether it is the deck crew or the engine crew who really keeps the vessel going.

On a newspaper it is the advertising department, the circulation department, the mechanical department and the editorial department which claim priority.

If you back a Washington official into a corner he will admit he wouldn't be there if it weren't for the voters and taxpayers. Sort of like Casey Stengel, when he won one of many of his baseball pennants, "I never coulda done it without players."

It must have been Sitting Bull, Tecumseh or Pontiac who said, "There are too many chiefs and not enough Indians.

As an Anglophile, Twill, you must know that in England a short winter jacket that reaches only to the waist is called a "bum freezer." Webster's Dictionary defines "bum" as "buttocks."

When you stop to think about it the most amazing thing about FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, 71, is that in the 42 years he has held his job almost every year he has told us crime has been increasing and he has been fighting a losing battle. Who else could ever fight a losing battle that long?

Here is a quote from the preface to Audel's Automobile Guide of 1915:

"There are no hard and fast rules which can be laid down to insure a person becoming proficient in driving an automobile. Some people have the erroneous idea that only those who have received a first class mechanical training can become good operators.

"A man who is a first class horseman will usually make a first class driver of an automobile, or, in other words, the man who shows mercy to his beast will show mercy to his car.

"This type of driver does not belong to that class generally found at the side of the road with something broken or out of order."

With your exemplary driving record Twill, we can only conclude that you must have been a first class horseman.

Personally, I always stop at "Deer Crossing" signs and look both ways.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Profiles In Courage

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON

My friend Murray is the managing editor of one of the largest newspapers in the country. When the President of the United States gets mad he calls Murray, and Murray just shrugs it off.

Art Buchwald

My friend Jocko is one of the top criminal lawyers in the United States. In a courtroom he is a tiger, making both judge and jury sit up and listen in hushed respect.

My friend Harry heads a billion-dollar trade association and his word is law when it comes to the censorship of motion pictures.

My friend Sam is chief of protocol to the most powerful nation in the world, and he is on a first-name basis with almost every head of state.

My friend Sydney is the press secretary to the leader of a country that numbers over 190 million Americans in population.

ALL THESE friends have one thing in common. Their wives get angry when they watch pro football on television.

Last Sunday, Murray, Jocko, Harry, Sam and Sydney were invited over to my house to watch the Washington Redskins play the Dallas Cowboys in living color on TV.

Each of them said he'd be delighted to come and was looking forward to the afternoon.

At 3:45 p.m. Murray arrived. "It's good you came early," I said. "The game doesn't start until 4."

"I have to leave at 4," Murray said. "I just want to see the kickoff."

"But Murray," I said, "you can't leave that early. It's going to be a good game. I'll call your wife and tell her you'll be home at 7."

"Don't do that!" he shouted. "She doesn't know I'm here. I told her I was going out to buy her a Christmas present."

"What kind of a man are you," I said, "that you won't even stand up for your rights to watch pro football.

"I can watch pro football any time I want to," he said angerly. "But I'd rather spend the time carrying beds upstairs and listening to my kids fighting in the living room. Wouldn't anybody?"

Before I could answer, the phone rang. It was Jocko. He was whispering. "I can't get out of the door. She says if I got time to go over to your house to watch pro football, I have time to paint the playroom."

"What did you tell her?"

"I said I had only one day a week to relax and I wasn't going to spend it messing around in the basement."

"What color are you going to paint the playroom?"

"Light green," he replied and hung up.

JUST THEN Harry came in. He threw his overcoat on the couch.

"Did you have any trouble with your wife?" I asked him.

"Ahe you kidding? I have a wonderful wife. Anything I want to do is fine with her. She's a jewel, the dearest woman a man could have."

"Where are you going?" I asked him as he started putting on his coat.

"Just talking about her makes me homesick. I think I'll spend the afternoon with her instead of watching the ball game."

"That means she won't let you stay?"

He put his muffler around his throat. "Let me know what the score was."

Sam was the next one to arrive. He didn't seem to be worried a bit, until the phone rang. "Is Sam there?" his wife wanted to know.

"I'm not sure," I said. I'll look around."

Sam picked up the phone. "All right, all right. A loaf of bread and two quarts of milk. Well, what did you think I went out for?"

Sidney didn't even bother to call, so I found myself watching the game alone. But not for long.

My wife came in and said. "As long as no one is here, you can carry down all the toys from the attic for the Salvation Army."

There may be a lot of hawks in Washington, but even when it comes to watching pro football you'll find nothing but doves in every home.

Hays Again Backs Stand Taken By U.S. On Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, said today that had the United States not acted to halt the Communist drive from North Viet Nam it would have been forced to move against them elsewhere.

"If we did not make a stand in Vietnam," he said, "we would have had to do it at a later date and at a less convenient place, possibly Hawaii or Alaska."

Hays said he visited Vietnam about a year ago and left discouraged. But the situation now looks better, he said.

An indication of the change, he said, is that a year ago the U.S. and Vietnamese forces were taking no prisoners, but now they are being taken, with some coming in voluntarily.

Hays' comments on Vietnam and other subjects were made in an interview.

Because the Republicans picked up a net gain of 47 House and 3 Senate seats, Hays conceded there will be more difficulty in getting some parts of President Johnson's legislative program through Congress.

But should the Republicans take a course of being opposition to everything the administration proposes, he said, "the voters may want to take another look at the situation two years from now."

On the fiscal situation, Hays said he has no idea whether Johnson may propose an increase in income taxes. He said he would have to study the situation carefully before he would vote for such an increase.

He said he would have been more receptive to such a proposal six months ago but, he added, the economy has cooled off during that period "and we do not want a recession."

Hays has been chosen to light the Christmas tree on the west side of the Capitol late today. He will press a button soon after Johnson presses another to light the big tree on the ellipse back of the White House.

Mt. Nebo Grange Accorded State Honors For Activities

LISBON — The state Grange has awarded the Mt. Nebo Grange a purple ribbon for accomplishments in 10 areas of activity during 1966.

Mrs. Guy Frantz, home economics committee chairman, made the presentation at the grange meeting Wednesday night. Master Howard Wilhelm presided.

An oyster stew and chicken supper preceded the meeting.

Members voted to donate to an appeal for aid, packed a Christmas box for a community family and signed Christmas cards for shut-ins.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bailey reported on the state Grange meeting Oct. 24-26 at Cincinnati.

Wilhelm read a letter from Floyd Lower, president of the Regional Planning Commission, inviting members to attend the commission's annual meeting at 8 tonight in Lincoln School here.

The home economics committee was in charge of Christmas decorations and the gift exchange. Clifford Aiken Sr., former area resident now residing in Starville, Miss., was a visitor.

The next meeting will be Dec. 28. The county Youth Grange will hold a Christmas dance next Thursday at Willow Grove Grange.

Assemblies Are Held At High School Here

Two guidance assemblies were held Wednesday at East Liverpool High School.

Richard Biery, director of admissions of Robert Morris College at Pittsburgh, was guest speaker for a session held for the boys and Mrs. Ruth Crandall, associate director of admissions at the college, spoke to the girls.

The assemblies were directed by Bert Dawson, dean of boys, and Mrs. Ruth Connor, dean of girls.

They were part of a program to have representatives of various schools visit the high school. To date, 15 representatives of colleges, universities, and business and vocational schools have participated.

Yule Program Featured For PTA Meeting

"Christmas Around the World" was the program theme during the Tuesday night meeting of the McKinley Home and School Association.

Open house was held from 7 to 8, including a guided tour of the classrooms, which depicted Christmas customs, songs and decorations in different countries.

Business was conducted by Robert Hadley, vice president, with March 17 set for the annual carnival.

Mrs. William Sutherland, program chairman, commended the teachers for their help in setting up the tour program. The group contributed $100 toward the school's Christmas party next week.

A letter of thanks was read from the Child Counseling Center for the donation made by the association. A letter of resignation was received from the Rev. Albert Rodenhausen, who served as a delegate to City Federation of PTA. He has moved to Michigan.

The association is selling school record books as a fund-raising project for the 1966-67 term. Reports were given by Mrs. Harold Brucker, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Wotring, treasurer.

Vicki Dallas, a fifth - grade student, read the "Christmas Story," which was followed with the Lord's Prayer and the singing of carols by the audience.

Refreshments were served by the fourth- and fifth-grade homeroom mothers, assisted by the social committee. The table was decorated in a Christmas theme.

The next meeting will be March 14.

6 Directors Elected By Midland Chamber

Anthony Martell, Earl Rankin, Paul McGeehan, Lester W. Smith Jr. and Charles R. Schmitt were re-elected directors of the Midland Chamber of Commerce during the annual mail voting held in the month of November.

Each has served a two-year term and was reelected to a to a two-year term of office.

Frank Migliore was elected to a twoyear term of office.

Results of the voting were announced Wednesday.

The Board of Directors will meet Dec. 22 at 8 p. m. at Chamber headquarters at the McGeehan Agency to elect officers for 1967.

Raisins, mentioned in the Bible, were grown at least as early as 2000 B.C. in Persia and Egypt, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Horace Mann Students Give Yule Program

A Christmas program by the first, second and third grade pupils was presented Tuesday night during the meeting of the Horace Mann Home and School Association in the visual education room at East Junior High School.

Directing the program were Mrs. Mary North, Miss Karen Moss, Miss Marlene Laughlin, Mrs. Annie Mae Jones, Mrs. Geraldine Thompson and Mrs. Jane Rife, music instructor for the elementary schools.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Ruth Kincaid.

Milton Watson, principal, conducted a short business meeting in the absence of Lee Kriner, president.

The organization voted to donate $10 to the Child Counseling Center.

Reports were presented by Mrs. Jennie Kriner, treasurer, and the ways and means committee.

About 175 attended.

The next meeting will be in February.

Crater Lake in Oregon was so - named by visitors in 1869. It is a body of incredibly blue water in the crater of an extinct volcano.

Choir Plans TV Program

A program of music and dancing will be presented by the St. George Tamburitzans over WSTV-TV, Channel 9, Steubenville, Sunday from 12:30 until 1 p.m. by the courtesy of the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

The Very Rev. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church, said confession will be held on Sunday from 8:30 - 9:30 a. m. with Holy Communion during Divine Liturgy.

The Feast Day of St. Nicholas will be observed with Divine Liturgy Monday at 10 a. m. Confession that day will be from 8:30 - 9:30 a. m. also.

The Junior Choir will rehearse today at 7 p.m., Fr. Dobrota said. A continuation of the annual assemblage will be held Dec. 22 at 7:30 p. m. at the lyceum.

Fr. Dobrota baptized Dian-Cara Roslovic, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Roslovic of Columbus, Ohio, on Dec. 3. The godparents are Dr. and Mrs. Michael Musulin of Morgantown, W. Va.

Grange Plans Dance

SALINEVILLE—Brush Creek Grange will hold a benefit dance Saturday from 9 p. m. until midnight at its hall on the Irondale-Salineville Rd. Proceeds will be used for repair of the hall.

Certificates Awarded For Cooking Course

Camp Fire Girls Group 54 of St. Aloysius School received certificates for a cooking course at a party held by Miss Betty Newton for the girls and their mothers Monday at the Ohio Valley Gas Co.

The girls presented a gift to Miss Newton. A Christmas party will be held Monday at the Bryan Recreation Center.

Members' Sons Present Program At Quota Party

Sons of members presented the entertainment during the Christmas party of the Quota Club Tuesday night with Mrs. Marguerite Sayre of Hill Blvd. Forty attended.

Darrel Locke, son of Mrs. Doris Locke and a student at the Baldwin - Wallace Conservatory of Music, played a contemporary piano composition, "Sonata" by Lex van Deldon.

Organ selections were presented by Richard Sayre, son of the hostess. He is attending Youngstown University and serves as treasurer for the Youngstown Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. He related the traditions of several carols, followed by group singing.

Mrs. Edna Jones presented a reading, "When All Through The Ward."

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, president, introduced the guests — Mrs. Ruth Spivey, lieutenant governor of the 6th District; Mrs. Genevieve Swinton, president of the Alliance club, and Mrs. Bettie Norton. All are from Alliance.

During the initiation ceremony for new members — Mrs. Barbara Jones, Mrs. Peggy Mangano and Miss Rebecca Resnick — Mrs. Spivey received the aims and background of Quota International. Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, membership chairman, presented the initiates with pins and copies of the bylaws.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, charter president, received a corsage, following which the group sang birthday anniversary greetings.

Instead of a gift exchange, contributions were received for the Kent State University speech and hearing scholarships. Mrs. Eleanor Phinney was in charge of registration.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Sallie O'Hanlon, Mrs. Mildred Dawson, Mrs. Eleanor Boice and Miss Luella Thompson.

The buffet table was covered with a pale pink cloth and centered with an arrangement of poinsettia, pine and holly encircled by tall red tapers. Holiday appointments and green velvet bows offered accents. Mrs. Reinacher poured at the silver service. The home was decorated in keeping with the season, with a variety of Christmas trees decorated in various motifs.

The next session will be a luncheon meeting Jan. 10 at the Travelers Hotel.

School Matters Aired With State Legislator

State Sen.-elect John Longsworth of Salem was the guest of the Ohio Educational Association of Jefferson County Monday night at the Inn-Town Motel.

Committee chairmen Kenneth Persohn of Campground Rd., Wellsville, and Frank Mascalino of Yorkville were present. Mascalino was the representative of the Jefferson County Teachers Association.

Discussed during the meeting were school problems occurring in the area due to a lack of adequate tax base for running modern schools and the difficulties encountered in areas where there is a shortage of industry.

The legislative committee is emphasizing its belief in the need for a stronger foundation program for better schools, Persohn said.

Man, Woman Lose Wallets In City Thefts

An East Liverpool man and a Lisbon area woman reported to police Wednesday the theft of their wallets containing a total of $155.

William Stoffel Jr. of the YMCA told officers at 11:25 p.m. yesterday that his wallet containing $105, a driver's license and a credit card was removed from his room between 12:30 and 5:30 a. m. Monday. The thief also took a pair of his trousers, Stoffel said.

Mrs. Dallas Carlisle of Lisbon R.D. 3 told officers at 2:40 p. m. Wednesday her wallet containing $50, three credit cards and a check book was stolen while she shopped in the Loblaw, Inc., food market on Bradshaw Ave.

Three more thefts were reported yesterday, while officers cited three juveniles in connection with another case.

Patrolman James W. Buckley cited the three boys in connection with the theft of 455 candy bars Tuesday from the building of Hune, Inc., at 237 W. 8th St. Police said 280 of the candy bars were recovered.

An unidentified woman notified officers three youngsters had left a paper sack full of candy at her home. Suspicious of the candy's origin, she asked to talk with an officer. Buckley obtained the names of the three boys. Talking with them, he learned they had entered the building by lifting a garage door on the west side, he reported.

Gilber Piergallini, proprietor of the Vista Motel at W. 8th St. and Edwards Ave., told officers a five - foot blue spruce tree was cut down and removed from his property some time between Tuesday afternoon and 3:55 p. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Margaret Boch of 2620 St. Clair Ave. told officers Wednesday afternoon 48 Christmas light bulbs were stolen Tuesday night from a pine tree in her front yard.

Officials of the M. & A. Motor Co. told officers yesterday afternoon a battery was stolen from a used car on its Broadway lot Monday night or early Tuesday.

Adam's Peak in Ceylon is sacred to four world faiths. Buddhists believe a five-foot depression at the rocky summit is the footprint of Buddha; Hindus claim it for their god Siva; local Christians for St. Thomas; Moslems for Adam.

'Open House' Set By Scouts

LISBON — The staff of Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a Christmas "open house" from 1 to 5 p. m. Dec. 23 at council headquarters in the Firestone Bank building on the Square.

On hand to welcome visitors will be Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon, council executive; Kenneth Mugridge of Lisbon, field executive; Harry Lessley of East Liverpool, executive for the Cherokee District — the southern half of Columbiana County and Chester and Newell, W. Va.; Mrs. Pat McKinnon of East Liverpool and Mrs. Eileen Smith of Lisbon, secretaries.

Taylor said polar bear camps are being planned for next month. The Cherokees will camp at East Liverpool's Thompson Park the weekend of Jan. 13-15 and the Shawnees—Scouts from the northern half of the county — will camp Jan. 20-22 at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

The council office will be closed Saturday through Monday over Christmas and New Year's Day.

Darrel Locke, son of Mrs. Doris Locke and a student at the Baldwin - Wallace Conservatory of Music, played a contemporary piano composition, "Sonata" by Lex van Deldon.

Organ selections were presented by Richard Sayre, son of the hostess. He is attending Youngstown University and serves as treasurer for the Youngstown Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. He related the traditions of several carols, followed by group singing.

Mrs. Edna Jones presented a reading, "When All Through The Ward."

Mrs. Laura Reinacher, president, introduced the guests — Mrs. Ruth Spivey, lieutenant governor of the 6th District; Mrs. Genevieve Swinton, president of the Alliance club, and Mrs. Bettie Norton. All are from Alliance.

During the initiation ceremony for new members — Mrs. Barbara Jones, Mrs. Peggy Mangano and Miss Rebecca Resnick — Mrs. Spivey received the aims and background of Quota International. Mrs. Juanita Clendenning, membership chairman, presented the initiates with pins and copies of the bylaws.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley, charter president, received a corsage, following which the group sang birthday anniversary greetings.

Instead of a gift exchange, contributions were received for the Kent State University speech and hearing scholarships. Mrs. Eleanor Phinney was in charge of registration.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Sallie O'Hanlon, Mrs. Mildred Dawson, Mrs. Eleanor Boice and Miss Luella Thompson.

The buffet table was covered with a pale pink cloth and centered with an arrangement of poinsettia, pine and holly encircled by tall red tapers. Holiday appointments and green velvet bows offered accents. Mrs. Reinacher poured at the silver service. The home was decorated in keeping with the season, with a variety of Christmas trees decorated in various motifs.

The next session will be a luncheon meeting Jan. 10 at the Travelers Hotel.

School Matters Aired With State Legislator

State Sen.-elect John Longsworth of Salem was the guest of the Ohio Educational Association of Jefferson County Monday night at the Inn-Town Motel.

Committee chairmen Kenneth Persohn of Campground Rd., Wellsville, and Frank Mascalino of Yorkville were present. Mascalino was the representative of the Jefferson County Teachers Association.

Discussed during the meeting were school problems occurring in the area due to a lack of adequate tax base for running modern schools and the difficulties encountered in areas where there is a shortage of industry.

The legislative committee is emphasizing its belief in the need for a stronger foundation program for better schools, Persohn said.

Man, Woman Lose Wallets In City Thefts

An East Liverpool man and a Lisbon area woman reported to police Wednesday the theft of their wallets containing a total of $155.

William Stoffel Jr. of the YMCA told officers at 11:25 p.m. yesterday that his wallet containing $105, a driver's license and a credit card was removed from his room between 12:30 and 5:30 a. m. Monday. The thief also took a pair of his trousers, Stoffel said.

Mrs. Dallas Carlisle of Lisbon R.D. 3 told officers at 2:40 p. m. Wednesday her wallet containing $50, three credit cards and a check book was stolen while she shopped in the Loblaw, Inc., food market on Bradshaw Ave.

Three more thefts were reported yesterday, while officers cited three juveniles in connection with another case.

Patrolman James W. Buckley cited the three boys in connection with the theft of 455 candy bars Tuesday from the building of Hune, Inc., at 237 W. 8th St. Police said 280 of the candy bars were recovered.

An unidentified woman notified officers three youngsters had left a paper sack full of candy at her home. Suspicious of the candy's origin, she asked to talk with an officer. Buckley obtained the names of the three boys. Talking with them, he learned they had entered the building by lifting a garage door on the west side, he reported.

Gilber Piergallini, proprietor of the Vista Motel at W. 8th St. and Edwards Ave., told officers a five - foot blue spruce tree was cut down and removed from his property some time between Tuesday afternoon and 3:55 p. m. Wednesday.

Mrs. Margaret Boch of 2620 St. Clair Ave. told officers Wednesday afternoon 48 Christmas light bulbs were stolen Tuesday night from a pine tree in her front yard.

Officials of the M. & A. Motor Co. told officers yesterday afternoon a battery was stolen from a used car on its Broadway lot Monday night or early Tuesday.

Adam's Peak in Ceylon is sacred to four world faiths. Buddhists believe a five-foot depression at the rocky summit is the footprint of Buddha; Hindus claim it for their god Siva; local Christians for St. Thomas; Moslems for Adam.

'Open House' Set By Scouts

LISBON — The staff of Columbiana Council, Boy Scouts of America, will hold a Christmas "open house" from 1 to 5 p. m. Dec. 23 at council headquarters in the Firestone Bank building on the Square.

On hand to welcome visitors will be Bennett D. Taylor Jr. of Lisbon, council executive; Kenneth Mugridge of Lisbon, field executive; Harry Lessley of East Liverpool, executive for the Cherokee District — the southern half of Columbiana County and Chester and Newell, W. Va.; Mrs. Pat McKinnon of East Liverpool and Mrs. Eileen Smith of Lisbon, secretaries.

Taylor said polar bear camps are being planned for next month. The Cherokees will camp at East Liverpool's Thompson Park the weekend of Jan. 13-15 and the Shawnees—Scouts from the northern half of the county — will camp Jan. 20-22 at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

The council office will be closed Saturday through Monday over Christmas and New Year's Day.

IN THOSE FEW MINUTES

It may seem a long while, but actually it takes our Rexall Pharmacist just a few minutes to fill a prescription order. In that time, he prepares the prescription, re-checks himself on every step, makes out the label with information on dosage, patient's name, date, and prescription number, as well as any other special instruction. You can rely on our Rexall Pharmacist to follow these vital safety steps when he is filling your next prescription.

Newlyweds Live In Akron After Wedding Rites Here

MRS. JAMES WILLIAMS
Double-Ring Ceremony

Miss Linda Jean Garey wore a floor - length gown of white velvet when she became the bride of James Franke Williams the afternoon of Dec. 3 at 1:30 o'clock in the First Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Phillip Garey of the Bell School Rd. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore of Akron. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George F. Williams of 1212 Avondale St.

The Rev. Carl Shaw, minister of the Indiana Run Christian Church of Canton, officiated for the double - ring ceremony. Mrs. William Riedel presented a half - hour recital of organ music. Mrs. Mary Lou Garey, aunt of the bride, sang "Because," "Always" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A Watteau train accented the gown of the bride, which was fashioned with a scoop neckline and long, pointed sleeves. She wore a three - tier pearl and crystal crown holding an elbow - length veil of imported silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses. The familiar traditions were observed.

Mrs. Nancy Shaffer was matron of honor and Mrs. Pat Pastor, Mrs. Peggy Cunningham and Mrs. Arlene Rose bridesmaids. They appeared in floor-length gowns of blue velvet and chiffon highlighted with elbow-length veil of matching illusion. They carried cascades of white carnations and pink rosebuds.

Colleen Joyce Rose and Mark Allen Cunningham, niece and nephew of the bride, were flower girl and ring-bearer.

George W. Williams served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Aris Rose, Frank Pastor and Keith Cunningham.

A reception followed in the social rooms, where Miss Janet Garey registered the guests. Aides were Mrs. Teresa McGowan, Mrs. Lucy Williams and Miss Betty Smith.

The newlyweds were graduated from East Liverpool High School, the bride in 1966 and her husband in 1962. She is employed at St. Thomas Hospital, Akron.

The bridegroom served four years in the Army and is a graduate of the Ohio State Highway Patrol at Columbus. He is employed by the B. F. Goodrich Co. at Akron, where the couple is residing.

Power

proximately a half - mile south of another of the AEP System's major power plants, Ohio Power's 675,000 - kilowatt Kammer plant.

—:—

TODAY'S announcement of the location came less than nine months after Cook had disclosed his company's plans to build such a power station in West Virginia to utilize that state's vast coal resources.

The plant will have two 800,000 - kilowatt generating units. The first is scheduled for operation in 1970, the second in 1971.

Outstanding physical features will include:

Two 20-story-high boilers, each capable of delivering almost 5.3-million pounds of steam per hour.

Two single-shaft turbine-generators that will equal in size AEP'S Big Sandy Plant Unit 2 —the largest such machines ever built.

A single concrete chimney of a height that will make it the world's tallest stack.

Two hyperbolic - shaped concrete cooling towers standing 370 feet high, each with a 5-million-gallon pool, to provide the plant's requirements for steam condensing water.

The plant will consume an estimated 4.4 million tons of coal per year. All of it will be delivered by belt conveyor directly from adjacent mines of the Consolidation Coal Co. Coal first will be supplied from the nearby Ireland mine and later from a new mine to be opened to supply the new plant. The Ireland mine now furnishes all of Kammer Plant's coal supply, also by conveyor — about 1.9 million tons a year.

WHILE emphasizing the continuing importance of coal in the future electric power supply of the AEP System, Cook noted that, on the basis of present and projected coal and transportation costs, nuclear power clearly offered the lowest overall cost for satisfying the growing power demands of customers in the northwestern portion of its broad-ranging territory, served by the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co.

He said that I. & M. has invited bids from three principal reactor manufacturers for the construction of a major nuclear power plant on Lake Michigan about nine miles south of St. Joseph, Mich. The 644 - acre site is close to load centers but some 300 to 400 miles from major coal fields, thus making the delivered cost of fuel the highest on the AEP System. This location, therefore, is the most logical for AEP's entry into nuclear power.

An evaluation of the bids and the decision to proceed with the nuclear plant are expected to come early next summer. The construction schedule would anticipate commercial operation by 1972.

Civilian Rule Favored By Viet Assembly

SAIGON, South Vienam (AP) — South Vietnam's Constitutional Assembly by a one-sided vote today agreed the country should have a civilian government headed by a president elected by nationwide vote.

By vote of 107 to 5 with five absentees, the assembly approved a set of proposals to be incorporated in the constitution which it is now writing and which is scheduled to be finished by the spring.

Under terms of the proposals, the president would be elected by a nationwide vote of all men and women over 18.

Appeal Made For Midland Clothing Help

To help children in Appalachia who need decent school clothing, Midland elementary Principal Robert Blinn, chairman of the Bundle Days committee, today appealed to residents of Midland to participate in the 25th annual "Save the Children Federation's Bundle Days Drive."

The 1st, 4th and 7th St. Schools will serve as local sponsors today through Dec. 16.

Blinn said American school children collected more than three million pounds of good used clothing in the 1965-1966 drive. The clothing collected is distributed through 105 federation clothing centers in Appalachia.

"Children in Appalachia need an education if they are to make a better life for themselves. They need warm, durable clothes to wear to school. I hope that our students will participate in this children-to-children giving," said Blinn.

"I also appeal to groups and organizations to send or bring clean, wearable shoes, coats, dresses and suits for children and adults to the three elementary schools during Bundle Days."

Founded in 1932, Save the Children Federation, international child welfare organization of Norwalk, Conn., helps children and their families in the United States and in many countries abroad through a sponsorship program, an international self - help scholarship fund and the annual used clothing collection. The federation is registered with the State Department Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid and is a member of the International Union for Child Welfare.

Teachers Set Plans To Quit At Struthers

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)— The Education Association in nearby Struthers has disclosed plans for a mass resignation next July in the wake of the second defeat of a 7-mill school levy Tuesday.

The five-year levy, described as necessary to avoid serious school service cutbacks, especially in bus and athletic programs, lost by a 2,701-1,958 vote. The issue needed a 55 per cent majority vote for passage.

"If people are not interested in the quality of education, we cannot teach in their systems," said Mrs. Jean Mook, president of the Education Association.

Defeat of the levy also makes funds more scarce for increase in pay being sought by teachers.

The Struthers district has also been the target of recent criticism by the Ohio Education Association, whose officials claim that nine teachers are," said School Supt. Andrew S. Klinko. He said he had never been informed of any inequity in pay by education officials who made the charge in Columbus.

proximately a half - mile south of another of the AEP System's major power plants. Ohio Power's 675,000 - kilowatt Kammer plant.

—:—

TODAY'S announcement of the location came less than nine months after Cook had disclosed his company's plans to build such a power station in West Virginia to utilize that state's vast coal resources.

The plant will have two 800,000 - kilowatt generating units. The first is scheduled for operation in 1970, the second in 1971.

Outstanding physical features will include:

Two 20-story-high boilers, each capable of delivering almost 5.3-million pounds of steam per hour.

Two single-shaft turbine-generators that will equal in size AEP'S Big Sandy Plant Unit 2 —the largest such machines ever built.

A single concrete chimney of a height that will make it the world's tallest stack.

Two hyperbolic - shaped concrete cooling towers standing 370 feet high, each with a 5-million-gallon pool, to provide the plant's requirements for steam condensing water.

The plant will consume an estimated 4.4 million tons of coal per year. All of it will be delivered by belt conveyor directly from adjacent mines of the Consolidation Coal Co. Coal first will be supplied from the nearby Ireland mine and later from a new mine to be opened to supply the new plant. The Ireland mine now furnishes all of Kammer Plant's coal supply, also by conveyor — about 1.9 million tons a year.

WHILE emphasizing the continuing importance of coal in the future electric power supply of the AEP System, Cook noted that, on the basis of present and projected coal and transportation costs, nuclear power clearly offered the lowest overall cost for satisfying the growing power demands of customers in the northwestern portion of its broad-ranging territory, served by the Indiana and Michigan Electric Co.

He said that I. & M. has invited bids from three principal reactor manufacturers for the construction of a major nuclear power plant on Lake Michigan about nine miles south of St. Joseph, Mich. The 644 - acre site is close to load centers but some 300 to 400 miles from major coal fields, thus making the delivered cost of fuel the highest on the AEP System. This location, therefore, is the most logical for AEP's entry into nuclear power.

Reno Fire Destroys Hotel, 5 Businesses

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A fire swept through a half-block-long building near Reno's gambling casinos Wednesday, destroying a hotel and five businesses.

Sessions End On Curbs For Air Pollution

The third national conference on air pollution at Washington, attended by a number of Midland and Beaver County officials, closed Wednesday with calls for action on curbing contamination of the nation's air.

Speakers urged a range of controls, from banning back yard trash burning to spending millions to remove noxious material from industrial fuels.

Surgeon General William Stewart said the three - day meeting of scientists and public officials "added up to a clear call for action now" to assure people who are "angry about the condition of the air they are breathing."

The extent of federal controls and money backing for anti-pollution efforts aroused varying responses from the experts, but the majority favored limiting the federal role to "strong partnership with state and local agencies."

The experts concluded that local problems are so different in various parts of the country that over-all federal authority could not do the job. They decided that state authority, combined with adjoining state powers in some places, would do more to clean the air than would more national laws and controls.

The Midland delegation included Mayor Eli Corak, Councilmen Joseph D'Alesio, Leonard Ware, Raymond Presutti, William Vinovich, Joseph Hibbard, William Shovlin and Peter Vuckovich; Assistant Borough Secretary Edward Cilli and Solicitor Frank Suffoletta, along with O. T. Albaugh, Crucible Steel Co. superintendent of Community Relations, and Thomas Centi, Crucible engineer.

Man Reports Injury In Wellsville Mishap

Wellsville police Wednesday investigated a two - car collision at 10th and Lisbon Sts. which caused minor damage and one complaint of injury.

Clifford Athey of 1024 Center St. told police he was driving north on 10th St. when an auto driven by Chester Thornton emerged from Lisbon St. and struck his car.

Chief John Hephner said damage to the cars was light. Athey complained of minor back and neck pains.

Center Trustees Vote To Buy $7,373 Truck

LISBON — Center Township trustees voted Wednesday to buy a 1967 dump truck from Lewis Chevrolet of Lisbon for $7,373, subject to approval of county commissioners.

Lehman Ford of Lisbon bid $8,072. Neither proposal included a trade-in because the 1959 Ford the new truck will replace is unusable.

Delivery may take 120 days. This will leave the township with but one truck, a 1964 model, during the winter.

CYO Schedules 'Folk Mass' At Midland Church

The Catholic Youth Organization of Midlands Presentation Catholic Church will sponsor a Folk Mass for the high school of religion and for parish members Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Fr. John Sabovik, CYO moderator, said the Folk Mass is different because of the type of music and accompaniment used.

Hymns sung are original compositions or traditional folk melodies with devotional themes that are an expression of the folk tradition in the lives of the people who participate.

Accompaniment is provided by guitars; this combination of word and sound affords an opportunity to help the participants in the Mass to make it a more understandable and personal type of worship.

As the sacred action of the Mass unfolds, all are drawn to participate in a manner that helps to make it a contemporary expression of the prayer of the present Christian community.

The Folk Mass is not meant to replace the more common type of music and hymn. It is meant to be used in certain groups and on specific occasions only, but it is really a part of church music and song. It is an effort to take the familiar tunes, rewrite the words in an expression of the thoughts and meanings of the different parts of the Mass, and present them as a contemporary prayer of the people gathered to worship here in the year 1966.

The parishioners are all invited to come and participate so that all may see that the Church is trying every dignified means to make the worship that is the Mass an up to date and meaningful experience, Fr. Sabovik said.

Rehearsal for the music was held Wednesday night with the members of the high school of religion. The students will provide music for the Folk Mass next Wednesday.

Mrs. Sullivan Tonti, CYO spiritual director, assisted Fr. Sabovik in arranging the event.

The CYO made plans for a ski trip to Seven Springs Ski Lodge for March 3 and 4. Anyone interested must have a deposit in to Mrs. Charles Schmitt by Dec. 31.

A CYO basketball game will be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at Monaca against the Holy Trinity CYO of Beaver Falls.

Board Responds In Pangle's Case

Responding to a motion Monday by suspended band director John Pangle's attorney, Ben Berman, asking the Wellsville Board of Education to "specifically set forth details, dates, places and persons involved" in the five charges on which he was suspended, the board Wednesday enumerated some 20 incidents allegedly contributing to his alleged "incompetency and inefficiency."

City Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara, required by law to represent the board in legal matters, compiled the list. It includes references of "unreasonable discipline of band students" and cited the dates, details and offense allegedly involving three pupils in the period dating from Aug. 29 to Nov. 12.

It also mentions instances where Pangle allegedly failed to provide a chaperone for band trips, neglected to keep members under control and used "abusive language" during a band parents' meeting and to the school administration. Other infractions of board rules also were claimed.

A hearing to act on his Nov. 14 suspension has been set for Saturday at 6 p. m.

Fairview School PTA Plans Yule Music Program

The Executive Board of the Fairview School PTA met with Mrs. Thomas Gimbus Monday to discuss final plans for a meeting tonight at the school.

Mrs. Charles Henderson, music supervisor of elementary schools, will direct the program entitled, "A Child's Christmas."

Mothers of children in the second grade are to bring cookies for refreshments.

There will be a carol sing. All children are invited.

Mrs. Bernard Hartman will be hostess and Mrs. Gimbus co-hostess.

Plans for a membership drive were discussed during a meeting of the Ohioville Junior Firemen Tuesday night at the hall, with Jim Johnson presiding.

The age for prospective members has been set at 16-21.

Clarence Dawson reminded the members of the small game hunt which will be held Dec. 26. Participants will meet at the fire hall at 7:30 a. m.

Ron Johnson, chairman of the ways and means committee, reported on a money - raising project in which a camera will be given away. The proceeds will be used by the senior fire department for the purchase of new land.

James Petrella, president of the senior fire department, instructed the group on the use of a resuscitator and Scott Air Packs.

Robert Kidder was awarded a special prize. John Dawson served refreshments. The next meeting will be Dec. 27 at 8 p.m.

RENO, Nev. (AP) — A fire swept through a half-block-long building near Reno's gambling casinos Wednesday, destroying a hotel and five businesses.

Sessions End On Curbs For Air Pollution

The third national conference on air pollution at Washington, attended by a number of Midland and Beaver County officials, closed Wednesday with calls for action on curbing contamination of the nation's air.

Speakers urged a range of controls, from banning back yard trash burning to spending millions to remove noxious material from industrial fuels.

Surgeon General William Stewart said the three - day meeting of scientists and public officials "added up to a clear call for action now" to assure people who are "angry about the condition of the air they are breathing."

The extent of federal controls and money backing for anti-pollution efforts aroused varying responses from the experts, but the majority favored limiting the federal role to "strong partnership with state and local agencies."

The experts concluded that local problems are so different in various parts of the country that over-all federal authority could not do the job. They decided that state authority, combined with adjoining state powers in some places, would do more to clean the air than would more national laws and controls.

The Midland delegation included Mayor Eli Corak, Councilmen Joseph D'Alesio, Leonard Ware, Raymond Presutti, William Vinovich, Joseph Hibbard, William Shovlin and Peter Vuckovich; Assistant Borough Secretary Edward Cilli and Solicitor Frank Suffoletta, along with O. T. Albaugh, Crucible Steel Co. superintendent of Community Relations, and Thomas Centi, Crucible engineer.

Man Reports Injury In Wellsville Mishap

Wellsville police Wednesday investigated a two - car collision at 10th and Lisbon Sts. which caused minor damage and one complaint of injury.

Clifford Athey of 1024 Center St. told police he was driving north on 10th St. when an auto driven by Chester Thornton emerged from Lisbon St. and struck his car.

Chief John Hephner said damage to the cars was light. Athey complained of minor back and neck pains.

Center Trustees Vote To Buy $7,373 Truck

LISBON — Center Township trustees voted Wednesday to buy a 1967 dump truck from Lewis Chevrolet of Lisbon for $7,373, subject to approval of county commissioners.

Lehman Ford of Lisbon bid $8,072. Neither proposal included a trade-in because the 1959 Ford the new truck will replace is unusable.

Delivery may take 120 days. This will leave the township with but one truck, a 1964 model, during the winter.

CYO Schedules 'Folk Mass' At Midland Church

The Catholic Youth Organization of Midland's Presentation Catholic Church will sponsor a Folk Mass for the high school of religion and for parish members Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

Fr. John Sabovik, CYO moderator, said the Folk Mass is different because of the type of music and accompaniment used.

Hymns sung are original compositions or traditional folk melodies with devotional themes that are an expression of the folk tradition in the lives of the people who participate.

Accompaniment is provided by guitars; this combination of word and sound affords an opportunity to help the participants in the Mass to make it a more understandable and personal type of worship.

As the sacred action of the Mass unfolds, all are drawn to participate in a manner that helps to make it a contemporary expression of the prayer of the present Christian community.

The Folk Mass is not meant to replace the more common type of music and hymn. It is meant to be used in certain groups and on specific occasions only, but it is really a part of church music and song. It is an effort to take the familiar tunes, rewrite the words in an expression of the thoughts and meanings of the different parts of the Mass, and present them as a contemporary prayer of the people gathered to worship here in the year 1966.

The parishioners are all invited to come and participate so that all may see that the Church is trying every dignified means to make the worship that is the Mass an up to date and meaningful experience, Fr. Sabovik said.

Rehearsal for the music was held Wednesday night with the members of the high school of religion. The students will provide music for the Folk Mass next Wednesday.

Mrs. Sullivan Tonti, CYO spiritual director, assisted Fr. Sabovik in arranging the event.

The CYO made plans for a ski trip to Seven Springs Ski Lodge for March 3 and 4. Anyone interested must have a deposit in to Mrs. Charles Schmitt by Dec. 31.

A CYO basketball game will be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at Monaca against the Holy Trinity CYO of Beaver Falls.

Board Responds In Pangle's Case

Responding to a motion Monday by suspended band director John Pangle's attorney, Ben Berman, asking the Wellsville Board of Education to "specifically set forth details, dates, places and persons involved" in the five charges on which he was suspended, the board Wednesday enumerated some 20 incidents allegedly contributing to his alleged "incompetency and inefficiency."

City Solicitor Delmar T. O'Hara, required by law to represent the board in legal matters, compiled the list. It includes references of "unreasonable discipline of band students" and cited the dates, details and offense allegedly involving three pupils in the period dating from Aug. 29 to Nov. 12.

It also mentions instances where Pangle allegedly failed to provide a chaperone for band trips, neglected to keep members under control and used "abusive language" during a band parents' meeting and to the school administration. Other infractions of board rules also were claimed.

A hearing to act on his Nov. 14 suspension has been set for Saturday at 6 p. m.

Jurors Weighing Coppolino Fate

FREEHOLD, N.J. (AP) — Twelve jurors prepare today to weigh whether Dr. Carl Coppolino strangled retired Army Lt. Col. William E. Farber.

The 34-year-old anesthesiologist took the stand Wednesday and denied almost every accusation leveled against him by his one-time mistress, Marjorie Farber, 52, the colonel's widow.

Coppolino said his only connection with Farber's 1963 death was that he had tried to prevent it by treating his Middletown Township, N.J., neighbor for an apparent heart attack.

Before the Superior Court jury retires to decide Coppolino's fate, it will hear final pleas from defense and prosecution attorneys and instructions from Judge Elvin R. Simmill.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Santa and Billy Get the ghost's tears that can turn most giants into pigs. Then Santa leaves Billy at the cave where the moon is hidden.

CHAPTER 10

Goko the giant was the bulkiest, hulkiest, heftiest giant in the world. He was larger than three elephants.

His legs were as huge as tree trunks and his arms as wide as storm water pipes. He was a prodigious, stupendous, monumental colossus of a giant.

Except for his head. It was the size of a very large cantaloupe. And the brains in his head were as mushy as the seeds in the melon.

Goko lived in a towering castle on a sky - touched mountain. His brothers and cousins and nephews lived with him. Compared to Goko they were peewee giants. Goko was their master and they were his slaves.

—:—

GOKO HAD a terrorific temper. Day and night he thundered through the castle whopping and whacking and thumping and lalloping the other giants.

But it was not enough for him to be king of the giants. He wanted to be King of Fairyland and Santa Land and the ruler of all Little Folk everywhere.

He ordered his giants to capture the Fairy Queen. They caught her as she was traveling through the forest one evening on her way to a butterfly ball. They brought her to the castle and Goko asked her to be his bride.

Naturally the Fairy Queen refused. Goko locked her in a chamber. He swore he would marry her anyway on Christmas Day. Then he would be King of the Fairies whether she wished it or not.

The Queen used all her magic but could not free herself. She wept and begged to be set free. Goko only laughed. He bellowed that she should get accustomed to her bonds because she would be his prisoner even after she become his bride.

—:—

THE QUEEN cried, "My magic may have failed but a real live boy will free me and you shall die by the light of the moon!"

Goko threw back his head and roared with laughter. All the same he was worried.

He ordered his slaves to capture the moon. That night the giants went to the edge of the Western Sea. When the moon set they caught it in a net and put it in a box and carried it back to Goko.

"You look fierce enough," Goko told the dragon.

The big giant sealed the box so no one could open it. Then he carried it to a mammoth cave three miles beneath the ground. But still he wasn't satisfied. He went to the swamps where dragons were known to have their nests.

He walked through the oozy, squelchy quagmire until he came upon a monstrous dragon rising out of the plashy marsh. The creature was almost as long as Goko was tall. His tail was sharp as a fish knife. His eyes glittered. Smoke drifted from his nostrils.

The giant told him he wanted dragons to guard the moon cave. The monster said, unfortunately, he was the only dragon around. All the others had gone off to live in zoos where the food was good and living conditions reliable.

"You look fierce enough," growled Goko. "You alone must guard the cave."

NO ONE before had told the dragon he was fierce looking. The truth was he would like to have gone to live in a zoo, too, but no zoo wanted him because he had never learned to breathe fire. Furthermore, his tail moved up and down like a puppy dog's instead of back and forth as a proper dragon's should.

The dragon did not like the giant and he did not want to help him. But he was afraid to refuse. Besides, he was very tired of the squishy, squashy bog where he lived. He really would like to have a change.

Goko led the dragon to the cave and showed him the box he must guard. Then the giant returned to his castle and boasted to the Fairy Queen.

"Nothing can harm me now for the moon will never shine again."

Tomorrow: Billy Meets the Dragon.

Man Facing Electric Chair Due Hearing

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — John Elmer Woodards, sentenced to die in the electric chair Jan. 6, has been granted a Dec. 21 hearing on his plea for a stay of execution.

Woodards was convicted in 1963 of first-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Margaret Van Arsdale of Columbia Station. The hearing was granted by the U.S. District Court at Columbus.

Smith Quits As Candidate For High Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic city committee has withdrawn as a candidate for Pennsylvania National Committeeman, saying his organization could support either of the two remaining contenders.

Francis R. Smith, the chairman, made the announcement Wednesday after a meeting here wtih former Gov. George M. Leader and Mayor Joseph M. Barr of Pittsburgh, the two main candidates for the job.

State Democratic Party leaders meet Friday to name a National Committeeman to succeed former Gov. David L. Lawrence, who died last month.

Smith said in a prepared statement:

"Without any canvassing effort on my part, I have had substantial offers of support from many parts of the state. I am grateful to these supporters, but I feel that the best interests of Democrats throughout Pennsylvania will be served by my withdrawal."

Smith said he felt the Philadelphia Democratic Committee "can proudly support either Leader or Barr as the best person to represent Pennsylvania on the Democratic National Committee."

Smith added "the goal of the state party leadership must be unity and harmony."

In Harrisburg, former Democratic state chairman John S. Rice said he considered Barr "especially qualified to represent Pennsylvania as Democratic national committeeman."

Man, Woman Cleared In KKK Rally Case

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio man and a Georgia woman were acquitted Wednesday of using hoods to conceal their identities at a Ku Klux Klan rally near here last summer.

"I am very happy," said Willard Gordon Stapleton, 43, of Miamisburg, who was acquitted along with Mrs. Estelle Foster, 58, of Mableton, Ga.

Mrs. Foster was tried in absentia because of illness. Stapleton's klan robes and hoods were returned to him after the verdict was announced.

The 34-year-old anesthesiologist took the stand Wednesday and denied almost every accusation leveled against him by his one-time mistress, Marjorie Farber, 52, the colonel's widow.

Coppolino said his only connection with Farber's 1963 death was that he had tried to prevent it by treating his Middletown Township, N.J., neighbor for an apparent heart attack.

Before the Superior Court jury retires to decide Coppolino's fate, it will hear final pleas from defense and prosecution attorneys and instructions from Judge Elvin R. Simmill.

Santa and the Giant Fighter

By Lucrece Beale

Santa and Billy Get the ghost's tears that can turn most giants into pigs. Then Santa leaves Billy at the cave where the moon is hidden.

CHAPTER 10

Goko the giant was the bulkiest, hulkiest, heftiest giant in the world. He was larger than three elephants.

His legs were as huge as tree trunks and his arms as wide as storm water pipes. He was a prodigious, stupendous, monumental colossus of a giant.

Except for his head. It was the size of a very large cantaloupe. And the brains in his head were as mushy as the seeds in the melon.

Goko lived in a towering castle on a sky - touched mountain. His brothers and cousins and nephews lived with him. Compared to Goko they were peewee giants. Goko was their master and they were his slaves.

—:—

GOKO HAD a terrorific temper. Day and night he thundered through the castle whopping and whacking and thumping and lalloping the other giants.

But it was not enough for him to be king of the giants. He wanted to be King of Fairyland and Santa Land and the ruler of all Little Folk everywhere.

He ordered his giants to capture the Fairy Queen. They caught her as she was traveling through the forest one evening on her way to a butterfly ball. They brought her to the castle and Goko asked her to be his bride.

Naturally the Fairy Queen refused. Goko locked her in a chamber. He swore he would marry her anyway on Christmas Day. Then he would be King of the Fairies whether she wished it or not.

The Queen used all her magic but could not free herself. She wept and begged to be set free. Goko only laughed. He bellowed that she should get accustomed to her bonds because she would be his prisoner even after she become his bride.

—:—

THE QUEEN cried. "My magic may have failed but a real live boy will free me and you shall die by the light of the moon!"

Goko threw back his head and roared with laughter. All the same he was worried.

He ordered his slaves to capture the moon. That night the giants went to the edge of the Western Sea. When the moon set they caught it in a net and put it in a box and carried it back to Goko.

"You look fierce enough," Goko told the dragon.

The big giant sealed the box so no one could open it. Then he carried it to a mammoth cave three miles beneath the ground. But still he wasn't satisfied. He went to the swamps where dragons were known to have their nests.

He walked through the oozy, squelchy quagmire until he came upon a monstrous dragon rising out of the plashy marsh. The creature was almost as long as Goko was tall. His tail was sharp as a fish knife. His eyes glittered. Smoke drifted from his nostrils.

The giant told him he wanted dragons to guard the moon cave. The monster said, unfortunately, he was the only dragon around. All the others had gone off to live in zoos where the food was good and living conditions reliable.

"You look fierce enough," growled Goko. "You alone must guard the cave."

NO ONE before had told the dragon he was fierce looking. The truth was he would like to have gone to live in a zoo, too, but no zoo wanted him because he had never learned to breathe fire. Furthermore, his tail moved up and down like a puppy dog's instead of back and forth as a proper dragon's should.

The dragon did not like the giant and he did not want to help him. But he was afraid to refuse. Besides, he was very tired of the squishy, squashy bog where he lived. He really would like to have a change.

Goko led the dragon to the cave and showed him the box he must guard. Then the giant returned to his castle and boasted to the Fairy Queen.

"Nothing can harm me now for the moon will never shine again."

Tomorrow: Billy Meets the Dragon.

Man Facing Electric Chair Due Hearing

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — John Elmer Woodards, sentenced to die in the electric chair Jan. 6, has been granted a Dec. 21 hearing on his plea for a stay of execution.

Woodards was convicted in 1963 of first-degree murder in the slaying of Mrs. Margaret Van Arsdale of Columbia Station. The hearing was granted by the U.S. District Court at Columbus.

Smith Quits As Candidate For High Post

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The chairman of the Philadelphia Democratic city committee has withdrawn as a candidate for Pennsylvania National Committeeman, saying his organization could support either of the two remaining contenders.

Francis R. Smith, the chairman, made the announcement Wednesday after a meeting here wtih former Gov. George M. Leader and Mayor Joseph M. Barr of Pittsburgh, the two main candidates for the job.

State Democratic Party leaders meet Friday to name a National Committeeman to succeed former Gov. David L. Lawrence, who died last month.

Smith said in a prepared statement:

"Without any canvassing effort on my part, I have had substantial offers of support from many parts of the state. I am grateful to these supporters, but I feel that the best interests of Democrats throughout Pennsylvania will be served by my withdrawal."

Smith said he felt the Philadelphia Democratic Committee "can proudly support either Leader or Barr as the best person to represent Pennsylvania on the Democratic National Committee."

Smith added "the goal of the state party leadership must be unity and harmony."

In Harrisburg, former Democratic state chairman John S. Rice said he considered Barr "especially qualified to represent Pennsylvania as Democratic national committeeman."

Man, Woman Cleared In KKK Rally Case

LEBANON, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio man and a Georgia woman were acquitted Wednesday of using hoods to conceal their identities at a Ku Klux Klan rally near here last summer.

"I am very happy," said Willard Gordon Stapleton, 43, of Miamisburg, who was acquitted along with Mrs. Estelle Foster, 58, of Mableton, Ga.

Mrs. Foster was tried in absentia because of illness. Stapleton's klan robes and hoods were returned to him after the verdict was announced.

Franco Plans Given Strong Vote Margin

MADRID (AP) — Generalissimo Francisco Franco emerged today from Spain's second national referendum in 30 years with smashing support for his government reorganization plans and new strength from which to negotiate Spain's future relations with the rest of Western Europe.

More than 17 million Spaniards—85 per cent of those eligible to vote — apparently said "si" in the nationwide vote Wednesday on Franco's program which may lead to a democratic monarchy for Spain.

Even Franco's staunchest supporters were amazed at the result. Although the government utilized press and propaganda facilities to the fullest to muster support and relentlessly muzzled opposition forces calling for a voters' boycott, the most optimistic prevoting prediction was a favorable response from 80 per cent of those voting. Instead 96 per cent of those voting voted yes.

The heavy pro-Franco vote was likely to dismay potential opposition groups seeking an early end to the 27-year-old dictatorship.

It was expected to have an equally strong effect abroad, where complaints that the Spanish people are denied liberty as it is known in some democratic countries has kept Spain from membership in the European Common Market and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The landslide government victory removed the last barrier to implementation of Franco's plans to amend Spain's organic laws as a guarantee of the future when he steps down.

Highlights of the program include separation of the heads of state and government, which Franco is expected to put into effect early in January; a detailed plan providing for his succession by a king or regent, which is not likely to become effective so long as Franco, 74, remains in good health, and provisions for broadening the elective membership of the Spanish Cortes (legislature) and Council of the Realm.

Wellsville VFW Plans For Dance

Plans were made for a New Year's eve dance when Pvt. Tommy Mackall Post 5647 Veterans of Foreign Wars of Wellsville met Tuesday night in the post home.

The committee in charge includes Joe DeSenze, Albert O'Rourke, John Prokop and Nick Puch. Members may make reservations by calling the post home.

Keith Hamilton, membership chairman, reported that 40 more are needed to reach the quota by the end of the year and reminded that all members must be paid up to protect insurance benefits. A donation was voted to the Christmas Seal campaign.

The charter will be draped for 30 days in memory of Clester Collins who was a charter and life member of the club.

A dance will be held Saturday night, with Chuck Cox and his Dixielanders providing the music. Comdr. Fred Payne announced that the local post will be host to the Columbiana County Council in January.

Lunch was served by Pat Scarbino and Paul Smith. The next meeting will be Dec. 27.

Home owners in the United States spend about $360 million a year replacing roofs on their houses, records reveal.

Wheeling Plant Strike Continues

WHEELING (AP) — A strike continued today at the fabricating plant of Wheeling Steel Corp.

The plant, which produces steel shipping containers under an $8.8 million federal contract, employs about 700 workers.

A company spokesman said the strike was not authorized by the United Steelworkers union, bargaining agent for the workers.

The work stoppage began Wednesday morning when a picket line appeared at the plant entrance.

The company said the walkout apparently stemmed from the temporary suspension of an employe as a disciplinary measure.

Officials of the union have urged the strikers to return to work while the dispute is negotiated.

Post Office Sets Extra Hours

Additional hours to help meet the Christmas rush were announced today by Postmaster Samuel W. Brown.

Stamp windows, which normally close at noon, will remain open Saturday until 4:45 p. m. and money orders will be sold from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at the main office downtown and the Station A and Calcutta branches. Money orders normally are not sold on Saturday.

On Sunday, the stamp window at the main office again will be open from noon until 4 p. m. and Brown urges that patrons take advantage of the extra hours to avoid having to stand in line.

He said that Monday is expected to be the largest day volume-wise in the handling of mail.

"I look for the lobby to be swarming with customers from 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m. that day. A lot of patrons will take the opportunity to address their mail on Sunday, then mail it Monday. We need the public's cooperation if we are to move the mountains of mails that have been greeting us daily. Some of the cards and packages are just not going to get to their destination on time if we receive them late."

Brown pointed out that due to the tremendous volumes moving across the country, all media of transportation have been running late.

Stanton Local Concert Set

The annual Christmas concert by the vocal music department of Stanton Local High School will be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Choir Director Ray Lautzenheiser will lead the combined singers through the program, which will include eight Christmas carols.

Soloists are Rick Reynolds, Mike Patterson, Sally Koehnlein, Doris Halligan, Douglas Koehnlein, Charles Weaver, Bill Hogue, Gloria Sperlazza and Bill Carlisle.

Yule Party Set

HIGHLANDTOWN — A Christmas party sponsored by Highlandtown firemen will be held Saturday at 7:30 p. m. Entertainment for residents of the community is planned and Santa will present treats to the children.

Grant Sought In Project To Aid Dropouts

An application has been filed by the Hancock County Community Action Council, Inc., for a federal grant of $73,555 for a work program aimed at high school dropouts in Weirton.

Ronald E. Wilson, program director, said the council also has applied for another $20,000 to continue the present program another six months.

Neighborhood associations have been organized in Chester and North Weirton. Wilson appeared before Weirton City Council earlier this week to explain the program and was informed Council will cooperate.

The 52-week program for dropouts would be in charge of four supervisors. Some 30 dropout students would be assigned to jobs in the city on a 30-hour-week basis. They would be taught mechanics, sign painting, operation of various types of vehicles and office practices.

The CAC also has applied for a $21,424 grant for a "Head Start" program involving 65 underprivileged children in the county. This will be operated through the Hancock County Board of Education.

Judge Orders Arrest Of 3 On Tax Charges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today ordered bench warrants for the arrest of three men who failed to appear in previously continued cases in which each was charged with violating the city income tax ordinance.

The defendants are Charles Hughes of 930 St. Clair Ave., Edward D. Pack of 1235 Pennsylvania Ave. and Lynwood Wilson of 2100 Crawford Ave. Each is accused of violating the tax ordinance by failure to file an estimate of 1966 earnings.

The charges were filed Oct. 20 by D. G. Wilkinson, tax commissioner.

Hospital Treats Six Injured In District Mishaps

Two area residents injured at work were among six treated at City Hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Anabel Wolfe of East Liverpool R. D. 1, an employe of the Beaver Local School District, received a lacerated right hand on a broken window she was trying to lower while at work.

Rick Hoppel of East Liverpool R. D. 2, employed by Robert's Sunoco Service Station, suffered severe contusions of the ring and middle fingers when his hand became caught between a trailer and a car while at work.

Cathy Treadway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dohrman Treadway of 345 Grant St., was treated for finger injuries when her hand became caught in a car door.

Mrs. Diane Hoffman of Elysian Way received lacerations of the middle and index fingers in a blender.

Judy Cronin of Hammondsville R. D. 1, received a contusion of the skull in a fall in gym class at Stanton Local High School.

Cynthia Bosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bosh of 728 Bradshaw Ave., was treated for a laceration of the chin received in a fall at home.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. George Gaumer

A Requiem Mass will be celebrated for Mrs. Annetta Gaumer of Steubenville, a former resident of East Liverpool, Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Steubenville.

Mrs. Gaumer, wife of George E. Gaumer, died Wednesday at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville. She was 69.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Charles (Justine) Joyce of Steubenville; four sons, George F. Gaumer and Edgar Keith Gaumer, both of Weirton, Thomas Willard Gaumer and Thomas Richard Gaumer, both of Wintersville; two sisters, three brothers, and 17 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the McClave Funeral Home in Steubenville this afternoon and tonight. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home tonight at 8. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, there.

Jesse Males

Jesse Edgar Males, 68, a World War II veteran and a former potter, died this morning at 7:30 in Oakland Veterans Hospital, Pittsburgh, after a lingering illness.

A native of Athens, Mr. Males was born July 15, 1898, a son of the late Eljah W. Males and Susie Moore Males. He had been a boiler fireman at the Homer Laughlin China Co., retiring in 1962.

He was a member of the Free Methodist Church and American Legion Post 121, both of Chester, and an honorary member of the IBOP.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Cora Males, at home; six daughters, Miss Elsie Males, Miss Linda Males and Miss Kimberly Ann Males, all at home, Mrs. Martha Crawford of Chester, Mrs. Mrytle Eldridge of Siasconset, Mass., and Mrs. Delores Wright of Alliance; a son, Jesse E. Males, at home; two brothers, Soloman Males of Chester and Wilford Males of California; five sisters, Mrs. Bertha Magnone of Chester, Mrs. Bessie Roberts and Mrs. Francis (Idella) Davis, both of East Liverpool, Mrs. Sadie Runico of Italy and Mrs. Andy (Elsie) Shatkus of Georgetown, eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held Saturdaty at 10:30 a.m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Harry Knight. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery, Chester.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and night and Saturday up to the time of service.

Lynn Ann Chilcoat

Word has been received of the death of Lynn Ann Chilcoat, 9-month-old daughter of Lt. Richard A. Chilcoat and Dixie Ann Lowers Chilcoat of Wheaton, Md. The mother is a former resident of Glenmoor.

The child died Dec. 7 at Walter Reed Hospital following heart surgery.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marjorie Lowers of Prescott, Ariz., formerly of Glenmoor; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Edna Chilcoat of Largo, Fla., and the grandfather, Floyd Chilcoat of Minneapolis, Minn.

Burial was in Arlington (Va.) Cemetery.

Ohioan Selected Vice President For Hills Stores

Douglas C. MacMillan of Cleveland Heights has been named vice president of Hills, which has 12 department stores in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, including that at the Calcutta plaza here.

The announcement was made at Columbus by Herbert H. Schiff, president of the Shoe Corporation of America, of which Hills is a division.

Schiff praised MacMillan "for his participation and guidance in the development of the store group since its inception at Youngstown in 1957."

McMillan joined Hills in 1932 when the firm consisted of 40 women's specialty shops on the east coast.

A lifelong resident of the Cleveland, MacMillan is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Gibbons of Youngstown. They reside at 3555 Runnymede Blvd. He is a veteran of World War II, serving with the Air Force in the European theater.

Hearing Set Tuesday On 2 Assault Charges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Tuesday in a case in which two men accused each other of assault and battery.

The two charges involve Robert Roseberry of 1744 Wyoming Ave. and James Birkhimer of 804 Morton St. Each is the defendant in one case and the complaining witness in another. The affidavits alleged the violations occurred Wednesday.

The judge set the hearing Tuesday after Birkhimer requested time to obtain counsel. Roseberry, represented by Donald Smith, pleaded not guilty. The court continued the $107.50 appearance bonds posted by each man.

Driver Fined After Mishap

A 53-year-old man whose car was involved in a Kountz Ave. collision Friday night was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

Frank Joseph Skrinjar of Oak Grove Rd., Wellsville, was cited by the State Highway Patrol after a mishap that involved his car and an auto driven by Robert Oswalt, 46, of 319 11th St., Wellsville. The patrol said Skrinjar drove another 500 yards after the crash, got out, locked the car and walked away.

Skrinjar, represented by Donald D. Shay, had pleaded not guilty on the charge Monday and his trial had been set for this morning. He switched his plea when he returned to court this morning. The circumstances of the crash and Skrinjar's departure from the scene were not explained in court, as no testimony was taken after the guilty plea.

Meanwhile, John J. Lehmiller, 54, of Canton forfeited a $22.50 bond today when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Wednesday at 5:20 p.m. on Route 7.

Two others cited by the patrol at the same time on the same stretch, also accused of speeding 65, are due for hearings next week.

The defendants are Joseph F. Perko of Steubenville, due in court Monday, and Thomas Lee Woodward of 247 Wells Ave., Wellsville, slated for a hearing Wednesday.

City Crew Continues Repairs On Blacktop

The street department is continuing blacktop patching of faulty pavements, thanks to dry, comparatively warm weather, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

One of the crew's principal tasks will be to patch the areas close to curbs in the downtown area where the blacktop has been eroded by water, the director said. One such area was patched earlier in the week on the north side of E. 5th St. near Washington St. Wintertime "potholes" have been repaired in various outlying streets.

Crews will work the balance of the week in the outlying areas so as not to interfere with traffic and parking during the holiday rush, Vodrey said. The department has purchased a small tamping machine powered by a gasoline engine that is expected to help the crew do a better job on patching in the future.

Three Lisbon Groups Meet

LISBON — A Christmas program featured the Monday Club meeting at the home of Mrs. George Lafferty of E. Lincoln Way.

Mrs. Donald Lewis was program chairman.

The Madrigal Singers presented several selections, then were joined by club members in carols.

"The Little Mixer," written by Lillian Nicholson Shearon, was reviewed by Mrs. Hoyt Sexton.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 at the home of Mrs. Sexton of E. Chestnut St. "Those Who Love," by Irving Stone, will be reviewed by Mrs. Charles Wright.

Hold Christmas Dinner

Mrs. Clara Wilson, president, of the Eagles Auxiliary, presided during the brief business meeting Tuesday night at the FOE home and also welcomed the 28 members and one guest present for the Christmas coverdish dinner.

Red poinsettias highlighted the holiday decorations centering the tables. They were presented to Mrs. Paul Crosser and Mrs. Tillie Warner.

Group singing, accompanied by Mrs. Crosser, guessing games and a gift exchange featured the program.

Senior Citizens Meet

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. George Gaumer

A Requiem Mass will be celebrated for Mrs. Annetta Gaumer of Steubenville, a former resident of East Liverpool, Friday at 9:30 a. m. at St. Peter's Catholic Church in Steubenville.

Mrs. Gaumer, wife of George E. Gaumer, died Wednesday at Ohio Valley Hospital, Steubenville. She was 69.

In addition to her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Charles (Justine) Joyce of Steubenville; four sons, George F. Gaumer and Edgar Keith Gaumer, both of Weirton, Thomas Willard Gaumer and Thomas Richard Gaumer, both of Wintersville; two sisters, three brothers, and 17 grandchildren.

Friends may call at the McClave Funeral Home in Steubenville this afternoon and tonight. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home tonight at 8. Burial will be in Mt. Calvary Cemetery, there.

Jesse Males

Jesse Edgar Males, 68, a World War II veteran and a former potter, died this morning at 7:30 in Oakland Veterans Hospital, Pittsburgh, after a lingering illness.

A native of Athens, Mr. Males was born July 15, 1898, a son of the late Eljah W. Males and Susie Moore Males. He had been a boiler fireman at the Homer Laughlin China Co., retiring in 1962.

He was a member of the Free Methodist Church and American Legion Post 121, both of Chester, and an honorary member of the IBOP.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Cora Males, at home; six daughters, Miss Elsie Males, Miss Linda Males and Miss Kimberly Ann Males, all at home, Mrs. Martha Crawford of Chester, Mrs. Mrytle Eldridge of Siasconset, Mass., and Mrs. Delores Wright of Alliance; a son, Jesse E. Males, at home; two brothers, Soloman Males of Chester and Wilford Males of California; five sisters, Mrs. Bertha Magnone of Chester, Mrs. Bessie Roberts and Mrs. Francis (Idella) Davis, both of East Liverpool, Mrs. Sadie Runico of Italy and Mrs. Andy (Elsie) Shatkus of Georgetown, eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Services will be held Saturday at 10:30 a.m. at the Chester Arner Funeral Chapel by the Rev. Harry Knight. Burial will be in Locust Hill Cemetery, Chester.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and night and Saturday up to the time of service.

Lynn Ann Chilcoat

Word has been received of the death of Lynn Ann Chilcoat, 9-month-old daughter of Lt. Richard A. Chilcoat and Dixie Ann Lowers Chilcoat of Wheaton, Md. The mother is a former resident of Glenmoor.

The child died Dec. 7 at Walter Reed Hospital following heart surgery.

In addition to her parents, she is survived by the maternal grandmother, Mrs. Marjorie Lowers of Prescott, Ariz., formerly of Glenmoor; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Edna Chilcoat of Largo, Fla., and the grandfather, Floyd Chilcoat of Minneapolis, Minn.

Burial was in Arlington (Va.) Cemetery.

DOUGLAS MACMILLAN
Assumes New Duties.

Ohioan Selected Vice President For Hills Stores

Douglas C. MacMillan of Cleveland Heights has been named vice president of Hills, which has 12 department stores in Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia, including that at the Calcutta plaza here.

The announcement was made at Columbus by Herbert H. Schiff, president of the Shoe Corporation of America, of which Hills is a division.

Schiff praised MacMillan "for his participation and guidance in the development of the store group since its inception at Youngstown in 1957."

McMillan joined Hills in 1932 when the firm consisted of 40 women's specialty shops on the east coast.

A lifelong resident of the Cleveland, MacMillan is married to the former Mary Elizabeth Gibbons of Youngstown. They reside at 3555 Runnymede Blvd. He is a veteran of World War II, serving with the Air Force in the European theater.

Hearing Set Tuesday On 2 Assault Charges

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today set a hearing Tuesday in a case in which two men accused each other of assault and battery.

The two charges involve Robert Roseberry of 1744 Wyoming Ave. and James Birkhimer of 804 Morton St. Each is the defendant in one case and the complaining witness in another. The affidavits alleged the violations occurred Wednesday.

The judge set the hearing Tuesday after Birkhimer requested time to obtain counsel. Roseberry, represented by Donald Smith, pleaded not guilty. The court continued the $107.50 appearance bonds posted by each man.

Driver Fined After Mishap

A 53-year-old man whose car was involved in a Kountz Ave. collision Friday night was fined $15 and costs today in Municipal Court when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of failing to drive on the right half of the roadway.

Frank Joseph Skrinjar of Oak Grove Rd., Wellsville, was cited by the State Highway Patrol after a mishap that involved his car and an auto driven by Robert Oswalt, 46, of 319 11th St., Wellsville. The patrol said Skrinjar drove another 500 yards after the crash, got out, locked the car and walked away.

Skrinjar, represented by Donald D. Shay, had pleaded not guilty on the charge Monday and his trial had been set for this morning. He switched his plea when he returned to court this morning. The circumstances of the crash and Skrinjar's departure from the scene were not explained in court, as no testimony was taken after the guilty plea.

Meanwhile, John J. Lehmiller, 54, of Canton forfeited a $22.50 bond today when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding 65 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone. He was cited by the patrol Wednesday at 5:20 p.m. on Route 7.

Two others cited by the patrol at the same time on the same stretch, also accused of speeding 65, are due for hearings next week.

The defendants are Joseph F. Perko of Steubenville, due in court Monday, and Thomas Lee Woodward of 247 Wells Ave., Wellsville, slated for a hearing Wednesday.

City Crew Continues Repairs On Blacktop

The street department is continuing blacktop patching of faulty pavements, thanks to dry, comparatively warm weather, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

One of the crew's principal tasks will be to patch the areas close to curbs in the downtown area where the blacktop has been eroded by water, the director said. One such area was patched earlier in the week on the north side of E. 5th St. near Washington St. Wintertime "potholes" have been repaired in various outlying streets.

Crews will work the balance of the week in the outlying areas so as not to interfere with traffic and parking during the holiday rush, Vodrey said. The department has purchased a small tamping machine powered by a gasoline engine that is expected to help the crew do a better job on patching in the future.

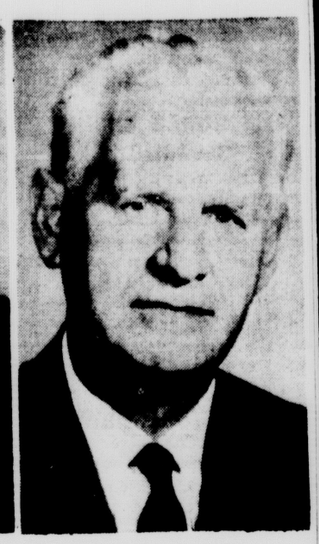
2 Named Co-Chairmen For Heart Fund Drive

KENNETH HISCOX



GEORGE WILSON

Two long - time Columbiana County residents will serve as co - chairmen of the annual Heart Fund drive in the county during February.

They are Kenneth Hiscox, 60, of 67 Garfield St., Lisbon, and George T. Wilson, 59, of Russell Heights, Wellsville. The goal is $17,000.

Both men have a history of heart attacks or open heart surgery, Hiscox has suffered two heart attacks within the past four years and Wilson underwent open heart surgery to replace a defective aortic valve three years ago.

HISCOX, father of Twing Hiscox of Salem, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Columbiana County Branch of the Eastern Ohio Heart Association, is the owner of the Hiscox General Store in Lisbon and a dispatcher for the Columbiana County Sheriff's Department.

A victim of rheumatic fever in 1924, Hiscox suffered heart attacks in 1962 and last year. Each time, he was hospitalized for about a week or 10 days and off work for three to four weeks.

A former mayor of Lisbon, from 1946-50, he is treasurer of the Lisbon First Methodist Church and a past president of the Lisbon Kiwanis Club. For the past 17 years, he has not missed a Kiwanis meeting.

He also served as Lisbon clerk from 1934-46, prior to his election as mayor and has held various offices in the Lisbon Masonic Lodge since joining the group 32 years ago.

He married the former Mary Elizabeth McCreary at Lisbon in 1931.

Hiscox will be in charge of the nine townships in the northern portion of the county—Perry, Butler, Knox, Fairfield, Unity, Salem, Elkrun, Center and Middleton.

WILSON, a life - time resident of the Wellsville area, underwent open heart surgery at the Cleveland Clinic three and a half years ago to replace a defective aortic valve. Less than four months after the successful operation, he was back at his job as a turner at the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville.

An active member of the Wellsville First Christian Church, he has held many offices in the Wellsville Masonic Lodge, which he joined in 1940.

He married the former Marguerite Lucas in 1925.

The southern portion of the county to be canvassed by volunteers under Wilson's chairmanship includes St. Clair, West, Hanover, Franklin, Wayne, Madison, Washington and Yellow Creek townships.

Beaver Falls Girl, 18, Tells Jury Of Attack

PITTSBURGH (AP) — An 18-year-old Beaver Falls girl told an Allegheny County Criminal Court jury Wednesday her story of mass rape by 13 members of a motorcycle gang.

In the first day of testimony, the victim told how she was assaulted and abused by the defendants the night of Aug. 10-11 in Leetsdale, near the Allegheny—Beaver county line.

She said the attacks occurred along the Ohio River bank during a period of about six hours.

The girl is expected to return to the witness stand when the trial resumes today.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: One of the things I remember about my husband before we were married is that he was always so handy around the house — his mother's house, that is.

He fixed everything from her sewing machine to the septic tank. Single-handed he built a tool shed for his dad.

We have been married six years and I can't get him to do a solitary thing around here. We bought an old house at a very good price with the understanding that he would fix it up.

What a fool I was to believe him! Everywhere I look I see things that need to be done.

Right now I'm aggravated because the back door doesn't close properly and there's a 30-mile gale blowing through the kitchen. I've been asking my husband to fix it since June.

Is there a solution that I don't see? — STYMIED.

-:-

Dear Sty: Please read the next letter and maybe you'll feel better.

Unhandy Man

Dear Ann: I'm married to a man who is in the insurance business and we can well afford to hire repairmen when something needs fixing around here. My husband, however, has the notion that he is a mechanic, a carpenter and a master plumber.

Most of my appliances are no longer working because of his botched-up handiwork. Every single faucet he has "fixed" worked better before he monkeyed with it. He has spent a fortune on tools and new parts and nothing he puts together is worth a tinker's damn.

Any advice? — WIFE OF A LUMMOX.

Dear Wife: Keep quiet and call in the repair squad after your husband has had his fun, because this is what he is doing. It's not a bad hobby when you consider what some husbands do for recreation.

Information Please

Dear Ann: I have been keeping company with a certain boy for more than a year. Eight months ago a Marine stationed in Vietnam wrote to our local newspaper asking for mail from his home town. I wrote to him and we have been carrying on a lively correspondence ever since.

My boy friend read the first letter I received from the Marine and asked me to stop writing to him. I have not mentioned the Marine since and I'm sure he thinks I followed his instructions.

Now the Marine writes that he will be home next month and of course he wants to take me out. I'm dying to go out with him, but I love my boy friend and I know he would never stand for my dating someone else. We plan to be married in a couple of years and I don't want to damage our relationship.

You might say I want to eat my cake and have it, too. What is your advice? — CRAZY MIXED-UP KID.

Dear C. Mixed-Up: You have carefully avoided giving me two important facts. How old are you? Fifteen? Eighteen? Twenty-four? Also, is this boy friend your first, or have you dated others?

If you are 16 and have never gone out with anyone else, I strongly recommend that you date the Marine and any other young man who interests you. If you are 24, have had other boy friends and now are seriously considering marriage, forget about the Marine and devote yourself to the man of your choice.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

2 Niles Men Indicted On Bank Theft Charge

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Two Niles, Ohio, brothers-in-law have been indicted by a federal grand jury on bank robbery charges in the $7,500 holdup of a Sharon bank.

The indictment was returned Wednesday against Alfonso J. Condes, 21, and Coleman S. Takacs Jr., 26.

The South Irvine branch of the First National Bank of Mercer County was held up Dec. 5. The two were arrested at their home the next day.

There are about 13,500,000 acres of cultivated olive trees in the world.

CHICAGO (AP) — John D. Rockefeller IV and his bride-to-be, Sharon Percy, have chosen Rockefeller Chapel at the University of Chicago as the site of their spring wedding.

The Gothic-style chapel was donated by the bridegroom's great-grandfather, John D. Rockefeller, whose philanthropy made possible the founding of the university.

The announcement of the choice was made Wednesday by Miss Percy's parents, Sen.-elect and Mrs. Charles H. Percy. They said the decision was made Sunday after Miss Percy, 21, and Rockefeller, 29, attended services in the chapel.

The wedding is set for April 1. Rockefeller of Charleston, W. Va., was elected as a Democrat to the West Virginia Legislature in the Nov. 8 election. Percy, a Republican, was elected U.S. senator from Illinois

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren says he likes his job in Washington but misses his home state of California.

"Out here," he said looking out of his hotel window over the San Francisco skyline, "everyone calls me governor." Warren, a Republican, was elected governor of California three times.

The Warrens are on their annual Christmas visit in San Francisco. And, as he has done for many years at this time, he'll go duck hunting on Saturday. In his party will be Gov. Edmund G. Brown, a Democrat.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Gary Lewis, who once earned $50,000 in a month-long tour, has signed up with the Army for the standard $90.60 a month.

"You gotta go in," said the son of comedian Jerry Lewis after signing. "If you have any animosity toward Army life it can be your downfall."

He'll report to Ft. Ord, Calif. for basic training Dec. 28.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudolf Bing has been given a one-year encore as general manager of the New York Metropolitan Opera Association.

Doctor Who Operated On Premier Tojo Dies

NEWARK, Ohio (AP) — Dr. James B. Johnson Jr., who operated on Japan's Premier Tojo before he was hanged as a war criminal in 1948, died Wednesday night.

Dr. Johnson, 58, prominent Newark surgeon, was an Army physician stationed in Japan when he performed the surgery, shortly after Premier Tojo attempted suicide.

Johnson suffered a heart attack at a bowling alley.

Firm Sets Up Offices For Lisbon TV Work

LISBON — Village cablevision, established last August at Toronto, moved last week into the former Thomson Electric building at 236 E. Washington St., more recently the aid for aged office.

President Paul E. Myers, former Lisbon resident, said the firm has a contract with Columbiana CATV, Inc., to install and manage the firm's Lisbon community television system.

Columbiana CATV is owned by the Neptune Broadcasting Co. of Steubenville and Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Myers said work will begin soon on a master antenna tower on a hilltop south of Lisbon. Workmen will string a cable from the tower into town, offering reception on at least nine channels.

The new concern already has installed systems in New Philadelphia, Toronto, Beaver Falls, Weirton, Steubenville and Hartsville, S. C., Myers said. The company will change its name to Advanced Communications in January.

Myers and his family will relocate in Lisbon.

Chester Man Hurt In Crash On E. 3rd St.

A 53-year-old Chester area man suffered facial injuries in a collision of his station wagon and an East Liverpool man's auto Wednesday night at 10 on E. 3rd St. just east of Washington St., police reported.

Earl Dennis of Chester R.D. 1 was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the right eye and cheek and a laceration of the nose suffered in the collision of his 1964 model vehicle and a 1955 sedan operated by David S. Waggle, 21, of 503 Elm St.

Dennis reported he was eastbound about 20 miles an hour when Waggle's auto pulled directly in front of him. Waggle told officers she was headed west and preparing to turn into a service station when the collision occurred. He said he did not see the other vehicle and added that Dennis' headlights were not illuminated.

An auto drifted from a parking place on E. 4th St. near Walnut St. Wednesday night and damaged another vehicle, police reported.

The 1958 two - door sedan of James McKinnon of 1956 Lisbon St. drifted away and hit a 1956 model sports coupe owned by Robert Chidester of Toronto, officers said.

Chidester told police he parked his car on E. 4th St. after the fuel line froze. When he went in search of a tow truck, his car apparently drifted away, he said.

Cronin Resigns His Position As Assistant Chief

Homer Cronin of LaCroft Ave. has resigned as assistant chief of the Liverpool Township fire department.

Cronin, who has served 10 years, was in charge of the West department at LaCroft.

Robert Badger of Dixonville, the township chief, will appoint a replacement. Milton Kountz of 2108 LaCroft Ave., a captain, will be in charge in the meantime.

Cronin has served as assistant chief since joining the department. He has retained his membership in the firemen's organization and is the new president for the coming year. Kountz is vice president, Fred Fryman secretary and Chalmer Gifford treasurer. Cronin also will serve as an area fire warden.

The department is sponsoring a community sing at the station Monday through Friday from 7 to 8 p. m. Various choirs from churches will participate. Anyone interested may contact Cronin. A lighted tree has been erected on top of the station.

The Auxiliary will provide Christmas treats for children of the community Saturday afternoon.

The department will meet again Jan. 3.

Firm Sets Up Offices For Lisbon TV Work

LISBON — Village cablevision, established last August at Toronto, moved last week into the former Thomson Electric building at 236 E. Washington St., more recently the aid for aged office.

President Paul E. Myers, former Lisbon resident, said the firm has a contract with Columbiana CATV, Inc., to install and manage the firm's Lisbon community television system.

Columbiana CATV is owned by the Neptune Broadcasting Co. of Steubenville and Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc.

Myers said work will begin soon on a master antenna tower on a hilltop south of Lisbon. Workmen will string a cable from the tower into town, offering reception on at least nine channels.

The new concern already has installed systems in New Philadelphia, Toronto, Beaver Falls, Weirton, Steubenville and Hartsville, S. C., Myers said. The company will change its name to Advanced Communications in January.

The firm has 22 employes. James Rice of Winona, a former inspector in the A & P warehouse at Salem, is vice president in charge of sales and operations. His wife Mary is in charge of the office. Marvin Bates of Toronto is vice president in charge of construction.

Myers and his family will relocate in Lisbon.

Chester Man Hurt In Crash On E. 3rd St.

A 53-year-old Chester area man suffered facial injuries in a collision of his station wagon and an East Liverpool man's auto Wednesday night at 10 on E. 3rd St. just east of Washington St., police reported.

Earl Dennis of Chester R.D. 1 was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the right eye and cheek and a laceration of the nose suffered in the collision of his 1964 model vehicle and a 1955 sedan operated by David S. Waggle, 21, of 503 Elm St.

Dennis reported he was eastbound about 20 miles an hour when Waggle's auto pulled directly in front of him. Waggle told officers she was headed west and preparing to turn into a service station when the collision occurred. He said he did not see the other vehicle and added that Dennis' headlights were not illuminated.

An auto drifted from a parking place on E. 4th St. near Walnut St. Wednesday night and damaged another vehicle, police reported.

The 1958 two - door sedan of James McKinnon of 1956 Lisbon St. drifted away and hit a 1956 model sports coupe owned by Robert Chidester of Toronto, officers said.

Chidester told police he parked his car on E. 4th St. after the fuel line froze. When he went in search of a tow truck, his car apparently drifted away, he said.

Cronin Resigns His Position As Assistant Chief

Homer Cronin of LaCroft Ave. has resigned as assistant chief of the Liverpool Township fire department.

Cronin, who has served 10 years, was in charge of the West department at LaCroft.

Robert Badger of Dixonville, the township chief, will appoint a replacement. Milton Kountz of 2108 LaCroft Ave., a captain, will be in charge in the meantime.

Cronin has served as assistant chief since joining the department. He has retained his membership in the firemen's organization and is the new president for the coming year. Kountz is vice president, Fred Fryman secretary and Chalmer Gifford treasurer. Cronin also will serve as an area fire warden.

The department is sponsoring a community sing at the station Monday through Friday from 7 to 8 p. m. Various choirs from churches will participate. Anyone interested may contact Cronin. A lighted tree has been erected on top of the station.

The Auxiliary will provide Christmas treats for children of the community Saturday afternoon.

The department will meet again Jan. 3.

Potter-Midland Battle Seen As Tossup

HANK KUZMA
Maps Strategy For Game.

While the Midland - East Liverpool battle Friday night at Midland has all the indications of a tossup, Coach Hank Kuzma figures his team as the underdog.

The Potters, who haven't defeated Midland since the 1960-61 season, will show a height advantage over the Leopards and that is what Kuzma points to. However, Midland has several factors in its favor since the game is being played on their home floor and they don't often lose there.

—:—

ONLY LAST season a streak of 64 straight victories on the home court was broken.

Kuzma watched East Liverpool in the loss to Alliance last Saturday and the veteran Midland coach calls the Potters "a talented squad."

"With their height East Liverpool rebounds well but got beat by a very strong Alliance club. Alliance used the box and one defense on East Liverpool which proved successful. I don't know if we can use that type of defense or not," Kuzma said.

KUZMA knows he must stop the scoring prowess of Vern Smith but the Midland mentor has had an uncanny way of figuring a defense to stop opponents.

Just last Friday in a victory over Bishop McCort at Johnstown, one McCort player had been averaging 17 points per game. Kuzma figured he was the one to stop and that player was held scoreless.

MIDLAND lacks height but has a hustling club with good speed and shooters. Also it seems Kuzma can come up with the right replacement at the right time because the Leopards have some bench strength.

After a 16-6 season last year, which isn't particularly a good season at Midland when you consider Kuzma's records of the past, the Leopards have chalked up five straight victories this season.

While the first three opponents did not offer much resistance, the last two did. Coraopolis was leading Midland going into the fourth quarter when the Leopards put on a vaunted all - court press that completely stopped the visitors.

LAST WEEK at Johnstown McCort had won 23 straight games over two seasons until Midland came along.

Kuzma said he plans to start three year veteran Rich Mahurt and Jeff Lake on the inside while John Williams, Jan Samuels and Dave Vanlier would be his backcourt trio. Mahurt and Lake are the tallest starters at 6-foot even.

FOLLOWING strong relief efforts in the last two games, John Tillman a 5-11 junior, has moved up to be one of the top replacements. Kuzma also singled out John Ordich 6-2 senior, has another cager who has been working hard and is expected to see some action Friday night.

Joe Noah, 6-2 senior and Larry Walker 5-10 senior also will be ready for early duty, Kuzma indicated.

The reserve game at Midland will start at 6:30 p.m. with the varsity tilt about 8 p. m. The game is expected to be a near sellout.

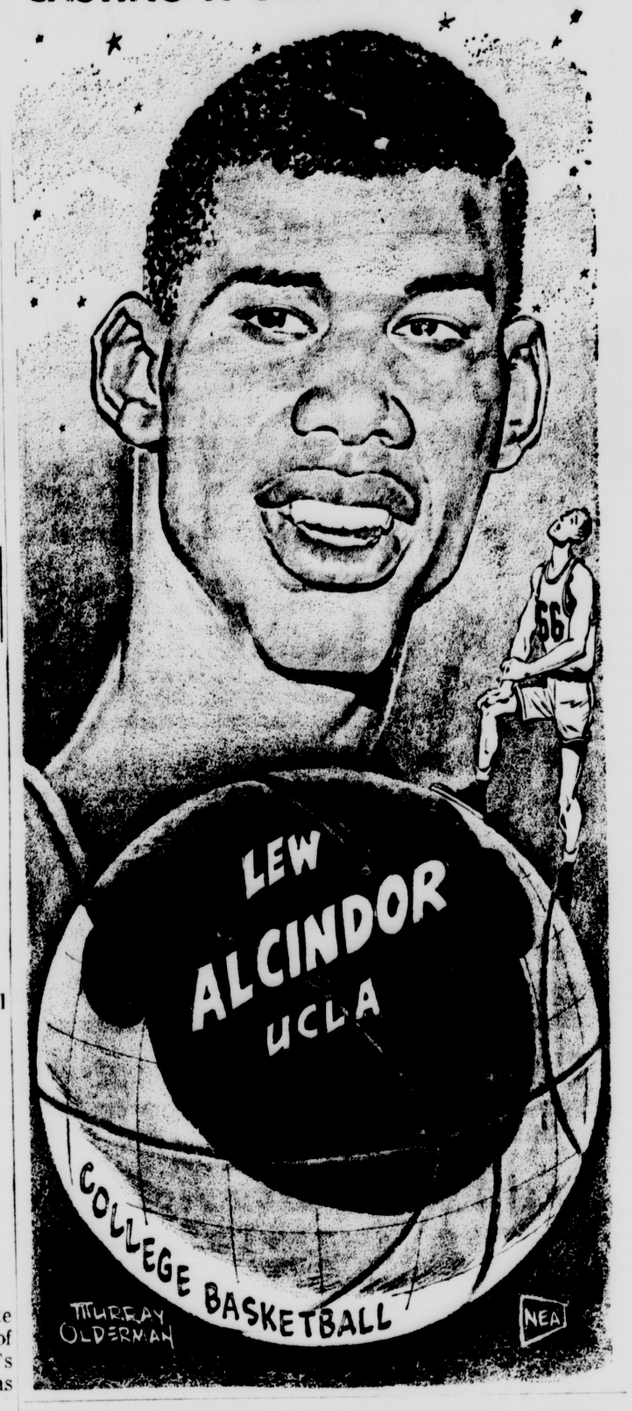
CASTING A GIANT'S SHADOW



Cards' Back Picked Top NFL Rookie

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Roland, a 1965 All-America back from Missouri who received a big bonus to sign with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named rookie of the year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 15 league cities.

Roland won in a close vote over Tommy Nobis of Atlanta, the two-time All-America from Texas.

The Bidwell brothers (Bill and Stormy) snared Roland away from the New York Jets of the American Football League in a bidding contest that cost the Cardinals at least $250,000.

Roland was honored for his defensive work last season at Missouri, moving to the offense when short yardage was needed. He had made a name for himself as a blocker and running back in his junior year.

Coach Charley Winner earmarked Roland for his offensive unit and moved him into the regular left halfback job over the incument Bill Triplett in the middle of the Cards' opening game with Philadelphia. In his first half-day of work he contributed 159 yards to the total offense and was picked as the Offensive Player of the Week in mid-September.

Roland is a man of all trades. In the Cards' first 13 games, he has accounted for a total of 1,566 yards with his running, throwing or catching. He had scored six touchdowns and has thrown one TD pass. He leads the league in punt returns.

Nobis, the fine middle line backer from Texas who received a big bundle as a first round draft choice of the new Atlanta Falcons, was the only other rookie to get strong support. Nobis was All-America in both 1964 and 1965.

Nobis took over the middle linebacker job with the Falcons as soon as he was able to report to camp and improved with every start. Coach Norb Hecker has been boosting him all season for rookie honors and he had many backers.

Chester Team Hears Steeler Star

A talk by Steeler tackle Charlie Bradshaw and presentation of awards to players highlighted a banquet honoring the Chester Mice team of the Little Football League Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple in Chester.

A nine - year veteran of the NFL, three with Los Angeles and the last six with the Steelers, Bradshaw spoke to the youngsters on the importance of sports but emphasized education is the most important part of their young lives.

Bradshaw, a 250-pound offensive tackle with the Steelers, is a practicing attorney in Houston, Texas, in the off season. He starred in college at Baylor University.

Trophies were presented to the team members and special awards were given to those players who graduate this year.

Members of the team presented coaches Al Clutter, Don Glass and Bill Glass with jackets.

The dinner was served by the Chester Chapter of the Eastern Star.

Resignation Is Submitted By Dimperio

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pete Dimperio, long-time coach of Westinghouse High School's powerful football teams, has asked to resign.

Dimperio, who piloted the Pittsburgh high school to 17 city titles in 21 years, said Wednesday night he has submitted a letter of resignation to the Board of Education.

"I feel that I have been coaching long enough," Dimperio said. "I want to stay in the teaching profession, perhaps in physical education."

As coach his teams recorded a 118-5-1 city league mark and compiled a 40-21-1 mark in WPIAL Class AA competition.

The board has not acted on Dimperio's request.

Lions Owner Makes No Mention Of New Coach

By WHITEY SAWYER

DETROIT (AP) — William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, said Wednesday night the team will be looking for offensive linemen in the draft, but refused to give any hint as the whether Harry Gilmer will be kept as head coach.

The National Football League club owner spoke at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism society.

Gilmer has been under fire from coaches and players during a 4-9-1 season and Ford said he would carefully weigh all the factors before deciding whether to keep him for the final year of Gilmer's three-year contract.

Ford said he was "a little disgusted" as the fans who threw snowballs at Gilmer during Sunday's 28-16 loss to Minnesota.

However, he said he felt the frustration of a poor season caused the snowballs and "I think those that did it probably are a little ashamed of themselves."

Ford also commented that owning the Lions was an experience he "wouldn't give up or trade for anything in the world."

Cited For Defense

Duke Coach Says Comparison Can't Be Made Between Alcindor, Bradley

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is Lew Alcindor, the fabulous 7-foot-1⅜ inch sophomore who has played only three varsity games for the top-ranked UCLA Bruins, a better college basketball player than Bill Bradley, the Princeton All-America who got all the raves only two years ago?

"A comparison can't be made," Vic Bubas, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, said today. "You are talking about two different worlds. Alcindor plays like Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell of the pros."

Bubas is well qualified to speak on the merits of Alcindor and Bradley. His Duke team played against Princeton and Bradley and only last week his Blue Devils absorbed two trouncings from UCLA and Alcindor.

Bradley, 6-5 son of a Crystal City, Mo., banker, passed up tempting offers from the New York Knicks to turn pro to accept an Oxford Rhodes Scholarship in England after his graduation in 1965.

He was called by many Mr. Basketball and finished his Princeton career with a record 58 points against Wichita in the consolation battle for third place in the 1965 NCAA championship tournament.

"Bradley was a tremendous playmaker, fine shooter and rebounded exceptionally well for his size," Bubas said. "Alcindor is the type of player who can destroy you.

"Alcindor blocks so many shots on you and then gets the rebounds that when you shoot and miss, you'd better have two players back and a third almost there because Alcindor with a flick gets the ball three-quarters down court to set up their fast break."

Ninth-ranked Houston was the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action Wednesday night. The Cougars, led by Elvin Hayes' 43 points, broke loose for 61 points in the second half to whip Centenary 97-66 in the first game of the Bluebonnet doubleheader classic at Houston.

Charley Parks sank two free throws in the last 48 seconds to give Idaho State an 87-85 victory over Rice in the second game.

North Dakota scored a major upset in beating Chicago Loyola 93-92 at Grand Forks, N.D., behind the sparkling 35-point performance of Phil Jackson.

Clemente Named As Dapper Dan Award Winner

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966, is the winner of the 1966 Post-Gazette Dapper Dan Award.

It is the second time Clemente has won the award, given to the sports figure who did the most to publicize the city. Clemente first received it in 1961.

The flashy outfielder received 59 votes out of 91 cast, according to the balloting announced Wednesday. Pirate Manager Harry Walker was second with 19.

Clemente said at his home in Puerto Rico he would come to Pittsburgh Dec. 29 to accept the award.

2 Late Deals Made Before Trading Ends

By The Associated Press

The interleague baseball trade deadline in the major leagues is at midnight tonight and the deals that sent Roger Maris to St. Louis from the New York Yankees and Maury Wills to Pittsburgh from the Los Angeles Dodgers look to be the biggest that will be made unless there is a last-day flurry of activity.

Wednesday, California traded veteran first baseman Norm Siebern to San Francisco for outfielder Len Gabrielson. And St. Louis sent Walter Williams, who led the Pacific Coast League in batting last season, to the Chicago White Sox along with relief pitcher Don Dennis. In return, the Cards got catcher John Romano and minor league pitcher Lee White.

The Angels got youth for age in giving up the 33-year-old Siebern for Gabrielson, 26. But Siebern hit .247 last season and drove in 41 runs while Gabrielson hit just .216 and had 16 RBI.

Romano, the key player in the St. Louis deal, hit .231 for the White Sox in 1966 and had 15 homers.

The two deals brought to 14 the total made in the last three weeks.

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Roland, a 1965 All-America back from Missouri who received a big bonus to sign with the St. Louis Cardinals, has been named rookie of the year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each of the 15 league cities.

Roland won in a close vote over Tommy Nobis of Atlanta, the two-time All-America from Texas.

The Bidwell brothers (Bill and Stormy) snared Roland away from the New York Jets of the American Football League in a bidding contest that cost the Cardinals at least $250,000.

Roland was honored for his defensive work last season at Missouri, moving to the offense when short yardage was needed. He had made a name for himself as a blocker and running back in his junior year.

Coach Charley Winner earmarked Roland for his offensive unit and moved him into the regular left halfback job over the incument Bill Triplett in the middle of the Cards' opening game with Philadelphia. In his first half-day of work he contributed 159 yards to the total offense and was picked as the Offensive Player of the Week in mid-September.

Roland is a man of all trades. In the Cards' first 13 games, he has accounted for a total of 1,566 yards with his running, throwing or catching. He had scored six touchdowns and has thrown one TD pass. He leads the league in punt returns.

Nobis, the fine middle linebacker from Texas who received a big bundle as a first round draft choice of the new Atlanta Falcons, was the only other rookie to get strong support. Nobis was All-America in both 1964 and 1965.

Nobis took over the middle linebacker job with the Falcons as soon as he was able to report to camp and improved with every start. Coach Norb Hecker has been boosting him all season for rookie honors and he had many backers.

Chester Team Hears Steeler Star

A talk by Steeler tackle Charlie Bradshaw and presentation of awards to players highlighted a banquet honoring the Chester Mice team of the Little Football League Wednesday night at the Masonic Temple in Chester.

One - hundred and seventy-five attended the banquet sponsored by the Chester Mice Boosters Club.

A nine - year veteran of the NFL, three with Los Angeles and the last six with the Steelers, Bradshaw spoke to the youngsters on the importance of sports but emphasized education is the most important part of their young lives.

Bradshaw, a 250-pound offensive tackle with the Steelers, is a practicing attorney in Houston, Texas, in the off season. He starred in college at Baylor University.

Trophies were presented to the team members and special awards were given to those players who graduate this year.

Members of the team presented coaches Al Clutter, Don Glass and Bill Glass with jackets.

Attending the banquet were players, their parents and cheerleaders.

The dinner was served by the Chester Chapter of the Eastern Star.

Resignation Is Submitted By Dimperio

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pete Dimperio, long-time coach of Westinghouse High School's powerful football teams, has asked to resign.

Dimperio, who piloted the Pittsburgh high school to 17 city titles in 21 years, said Wednesday night he has submitted a letter of resignation to the Board of Education.

"I feel that I have been coaching long enough," Dimperio said. "I want to stay in the teaching profession, perhaps in physical education."

As coach his teams recorded a 118-5-1 city league mark and compiled a 40-21-1 mark in WPIAL Class AA competition.

The board has not acted on Dimperio's request.

Clemente Named As Dapper Dan Award Winner

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Roberto Clemente of the Pittsburgh Pirates, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1966, is the winner of the 1966 Post-Gazette Dapper Dan Award.

It is the second time Clemente has won the award, given to the sports figure who did the most to publicize the city. Clemente first received it in 1961.

The flashy outfielder received 59 votes out of 91 cast, according to the balloting announced Wednesday. Pirate Manager Harry Walker was second with 19.

Clemente said at his home in Puerto Rico he would come to Pittsburgh Dec. 29 to accept the award.

Duke Coach Says Comparison Can't Be Made Between Alcindor, Bradley

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Is Lew Alcindor, the fabulous 7-foot-1⅜ inch sophomore who has played only three varsity games for the top-ranked UCLA Bruins, a better college basketball player than Bill Bradley, the Princeton All-America who got all the raves only two years ago?

"A comparison can't be made," Vic Bubas, coach of the Duke Blue Devils, said today. "You are talking about two different worlds. Alcindor plays like Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell of the pros."

Bubas is well qualified to speak on the merits of Alcindor and Bradley. His Duke team played against Princeton and Bradley and only last week his Blue Devils absorbed two trouncings from UCLA and Alcindor.

Bradley, 6-5 son of a Crystal City, Mo., banker, passed up tempting offers from the New York Knicks to turn pro to accept an Oxford Rhodes Scholarship in England after his graduation in 1965.

He was called by many Mr. Basketball and finished his Princeton career with a record 58 points against Wichita in the consolation battle for third place in the 1965 NCAA championship tournament.

"Bradley was a tremendous playmaker, fine shooter and rebounded exceptionally well for his size," Bubas said. "Alcindor is the type of player who can destroy you.

"Alcindor blocks so many shots on you and then gets the rebounds that when you shoot and miss, you'd better have two players back and a third almost there because Alcindor with a flick gets the ball three-quarters down court to set up their fast break."

Ninth-ranked Houston was the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action Wednesday night. The Cougars, led by Elvin Hayes' 43 points, broke loose for 61 points in the second half to whip Centenary 97-66 in the first game of the Bluebonnet doubleheader classic at Houston.

Charley Parks sank two free throws in the last 48 seconds to give Idaho State an 87-85 victory over Rice in the second game.

North Dakota scored a major upset in beating Chicago Loyola 93-92 at Grand Forks, N.D., behind the sparkling 35-point performance of Phil Jackson.

2 Late Deals Made Before Trading Ends

By The Associated Press

The interleague baseball trade deadline in the major leagues is at midnight tonight and the deals that sent Roger Maris to St. Louis from the New York Yankees and Maury Wills to Pittsburgh from the Los Angeles Dodgers look to be the biggest that will be made unless there is a last-day flurry of activity.

Wednesday, California traded veteran first baseman Norm Siebern to San Francisco for outfielder Len Gabrielson. And St. Louis sent Walter Williams, who led the Pacific Coast League in batting last season, to the Chicago White Sox along with relief pitcher Don Dennis. In return, the Cards got catcher John Romano and minor league pitcher Lee White.

The Angels got youth for age in giving up the 33-year-old Siebern for Gabrielson, 26. But Siebern hit .247 last season and drove in 41 runs while Gabrielson hit just .216 and had 16 RBI.

Romano, the key player in the St. Louis deal, hit .231 for the White Sox in 1966 and had 15 homers.

The two deals brought to 14 the total made in the last three weeks.

Lions Owner Makes No Mention Of New Coach

By WHITEY SAWYER

DETROIT (AP) — William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, said Wednesday night the team will be looking for offensive linemen in the draft, but refused to give any hint as the whether Harry Gilmer will be kept as head coach.

The National Football League club owner spoke at a meeting of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalism society.

Gilmer has been under fire from coaches and players during a 4-9-1 season and Ford said he would carefully weigh all the factors before deciding whether to keep him for the final year of Gilmer's three-year contract.

Ford said he was "a little disgusted" as the fans who threw snowballs at Gilmer during Sunday's 28-16 loss to Minnesota.

However, he said he felt the frustration of a poor season caused the snowballs and "I think those that did it probably are a little ashamed of themselves."

Ford also commented that owning the Lions was an experience he "wouldn't give up or trade for anything in the world."

Starr Is Picked As MVP In NFL

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Bart Starr remembers 1956 as the year he was overwhelmed with the opportunity to be able to make a professional football team.

Ten years later, the Green Bay Packers' quarterback has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by The Associated Press.

"I was grateful just to be drafted the year I started," Starr admitted. "I had been hurt my last two seasons in college and was a little dejected."

From Alabama, Starr was the Packers' 17th draft choice but in five years had won the starting quarterback job.

He won the MVP honor by a wide margin with 19 votes to six for runner-up Larry Wilson, the St. Louis Cardinals' blitzing safety. Don Meredith, the Dallas quarterback, had four votes and Cleveland's Leroy Kelly had three.

Starr was obviously pleased with the honor but looks forward to the NFL championship game and hopes his club will be facing the American Football League title winner in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles.

"We'd like to have that problem," he says referring to defeating the AFL.

Recuperating from rib injuries suffered in the first half last Saturday at Baltimore, Starr doesn't know if he'll play Sunday in the regular season finale against the Rams at Los Angeles.

Coach Vince Lombardi has indicated he'd like to rest his quarterback and the Packers already have won the Western Conference title.

"It takes awhile to get well, or to get better," Starr said. "But I'll be ready for the NFL championship."

Starr will be 33 on Jan. 9 and has enjoyed his best season of the 11 he's played with Green Bay. He's completed 62.2 per cent of his throws with a fantastic record of only three interceptions in 251 attempts.

Ohioans Reach All-Time High In Horse Bets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans spent more on the horses than ever this year, State Auditor Archer E. Reilly said today.

Betting at the state's race tracks reached a record high, with $187,351,906 wagered at the pari-mutuel windows. This was more than a $22 million, or 13.4 per cent increase over 1965, the previous all-time high, according to Reilly.

The figures were compiled following a final audit of all tax revenues collected at the various tracks in Ohio.

Ohio State's Attendance Is 1st Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes finished with the largest home attendance among the 616 college football teams in 1966 for the ninth straight year, it was revealed today with the released of a survey by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The Buckeyes, despite a drop of 1,856 spectators from 1965, topped the list with an average of 81,400 spectators for six home games. Michigan State was second with an average of 71,125 followed by Michigan 68,933, Louisiana State 64,350 and Nebraska, 63,764.

Notre Dame, the national champion, was sixth. The Irish drew an average of 59,075 for five home games.

Seven teams showed increases of more than 10,000 a game. They were Tulane, up 17,452, Colorado 13,292, Alabama 13,219, North Carolina State 11,865, Rice 10,407, Nebraska 10,166 and Clemson 10,041.

AFL Franchise Holds Key To Cincy Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP)— The city signed a contract with the new owners of the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday, paving the way for construction of a new river front sports stadium.

But an added condition is that the contract will not be carried out if the city is not awarded an American League football team.

Vice Mayor Eugene P. Ruehlmann said, however, he was confident the city would get the AFL franchise, and said the clause was put in the legislation as "a necessary protection."

A contract was signed with 617 Inc., the Reds' owners, calling for the baseball team to play in the stadium for 40 years. The new owners are a group of Ohio businessmen, mostly Cincinnatians, who purchased the ball club last week from William O. DeWitt for $7 million.

Under trems of the contract, the Reds' owners will pay the city 7½ per cent of its gross receipts or a minimum of $175,000 per year for lease of the stadium. The city also will receive two-sevenths of the concession revenue and will be permitted to place a surcharge of 25 cents on each admission.

City council gave City Manager William C. Wichman the authority to spend $400,000 for construction plans and architects fees. Cost of the stadium has ranged from $30 million to $40 million.

The city also was authorized to go ahead and purchase Crosley Field from the Reds and convert the area into industrial development.

617 Inc. will lease Crosley Field, the Reds' present home, from the city until the new stadium is completed.

Starr Is Picked As MVP In NFL

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP) — Bart Starr remembers 1956 as the year he was overwhelmed with the opportunity to be able to make a professional football team.

Ten years later, the Green Bay Packers' quarterback has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by The Associated Press.

"I was grateful just to be drafted the year I started," Starr admitted. "I had been hurt my last two seasons in college and was a little dejected."

From Alabama, Starr was the Packers' 17th draft choice but in five years had won the starting quarterback job.

He won the MVP honor by a wide margin with 19 votes to six for runner-up Larry Wilson, the St. Louis Cardinals' blitzing safety. Don Meredith, the Dallas quarterback, had four votes and Cleveland's Leroy Kelly had three.

Starr was obviously pleased with the honor but looks forward to the NFL championship game and hopes his club will be facing the American Football League title winner in the Super Bowl at Los Angeles.

"We'd like to have that problem," he says referring to defeating the AFL.

Recuperating from rib injuries suffered in the first half last Saturday at Baltimore, Starr doesn't know if he'll play Sunday in the regular season finale against the Rams at Los Angeles.

Coach Vince Lombardi has indicated he'd like to rest his quarterback and the Packers already have won the Western Conference title.

"It takes awhile to get well, or to get better," Starr said. "But I'll be ready for the NFL championship."

Starr will be 33 on Jan. 9 and has enjoyed his best season of the 11 he's played with Green Bay. He's completed 62.2 per cent of his throws with a fantastic record of only three interceptions in 251 attempts.

HOW WELL YOU TREAT YOUR TIRES determines how long they last. Low air pressure is a subtle killer. If your tire manual says use 24 pounds pressure, that is for a SOFT ride. You'll get 30% more tire life if you carry 30 to 32 pounds of air pressure in all your tires!

SOME STATES ARE CONSIDERING A law that all first time applicants for driving licenses must have completed a regular driving training course in both classroom and on the road. A good idea.

Ohioans Reach All-Time High In Horse Bets

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohioans spent more on the horses than ever this year, State Auditor Archer E. Reilly said today.

Betting at the state's race tracks reached a record high, with $187,351,906 wagered at the pari-mutuel windows. This was more than a $22 million, or 13.4 per cent increase over 1965, the previous all-time high, according to Reilly.

The figures were compiled following a final audit of all tax revenues collected at the various tracks in Ohio.

Ohio State's Attendance Is 1st Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Ohio State's Buckeyes finished with the largest home attendance among the 616 college football teams in 1966 for the ninth straight year, it was revealed today with the released of a survey by the NCAA Service Bureau.

The Buckeyes, despite a drop of 1,856 spectators from 1965, topped the list with an average of 81,400 spectators for six home games. Michigan State was second with an average of 71,125 followed by Michigan 68,933, Louisiana State 64,350 and Nebraska, 63,764.

Notre Dame, the national champion, was sixth. The Irish drew an average of 59,075 for five home games.

Seven teams showed increases of more than 10,000 a game. They were Tulane, up 17,452, Colorado 13,292, Alabama 13,219, North Carolina State 11,865, Rice 10,407, Nebraska 10,166 and Clemson 10,041.

AFL Franchise Holds Key To Cincy Stadium

CINCINNATI (AP)— The city signed a contract with the new owners of the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday, paving the way for construction of a new river front sports stadium.

But an added condition is that the contract will not be carried out if the city is not awarded an American League football team.

Vice Mayor Eugene P. Ruehlmann said, however, he was confident the city would get the AFL franchise, and said the clause was put in the legislation as "a necessary protection."

A contract was signed with 617 Inc., the Reds' owners, calling for the baseball team to play in the stadium for 40 years. The new owners are a group of Ohio businessmen, mostly Cincinnatians, who purchased the ball club last week from William O. DeWitt for $7 million.

Under trems of the contract, the Reds' owners will pay the city 7½ per cent of its gross receipts or a minimum of $175,000 per year for lease of the stadium. The city also will receive two-sevenths of the concession revenue and will be permitted to place a surcharge of 25 cents on each admission.

City council gave City Manager William C. Wichman the authority to spend $400,000 for construction plans and architects fees. Cost of the stadium has ranged from $30 million to $40 million.

The city also was authorized to go ahead and purchase Crosley Field from the Reds and convert the area into industrial development.

617 Inc. will lease Crosley Field, the Reds' present home, from the city until the new stadium is completed.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

The Hairier The Merrier

The only genuine "new look" to hit television in the past five or six years has been created by 33-year-old Jay Sebring, a barber who prefers to be called a men's hair stylist.

Hal Humphrey

A Sebring haircut (or copy by one of his many disciples) is as easy to spot as a mini-skirt or a tiger in your gas tank. Instead of the old backward pompadour, the hair goes forward or at least on a 45-degree bias.

-:-

THERE IS usually what Sebring calls a casual part in it, meaning you cannot see the scalp. Also the hair is loose, or almost fluffy.

In fact, this Sebring haircut has become so standard among the males on TV now that its creator is bringing out a new version to break the monotony. A sample of it will be modeled by Sebring himself, who is appearing in tonight's Part 2 episode of "Batman" 7.30.

He is typecast as a bar——I mean hair stylist, named Seymour Oceanbring to whom Catwoman (Julie Newmar) brings her henchmen for a trim.

"You will see by mine that the hair will be longer and looser, a little more flamboyant or tossed," Sebring explains. "It might be called a 'modified mod' style, similar to Bobby Kennedy', except I would give him a much better haircut. His hair lengths aren't even."

-:-

SEBRING is appalled over what pass as haircuts for all of our leading politicians, including President Johnson', which he describes as "much too conservative and close to the head."

Despite Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's acting background, Sebring says his hair could look much better with the right styling.

"It is too harsh the way he has it now," he says.

The very sight of Ed Sullivan or Lawrence Welk on his TV screen sets Sebring's scissors fingers to itching. Whoever cuts their hair would be hanged by his own and flogged with razor stops if Sebring had his way.

Uneven lengths of hair plastered down with some kind of stickum is not even a cheap excuse for a haircut in Sebring's world of hair styling.

Among his charter customers are Steve McQueen, Paul Newman, Jim Garner, Bobby Darin, Eddie Fisher and Steve Allen. Robert (Man From U.N.C.L.E.) Vaughn is one of those who let Sebring style his hair, then switched to a Sebring student who is less expensive.

A Sebring original now costs $50. Each trim after that is $26, which he considers extremely reasonable for any male who is spending upward of $200 for a suit of clothes. The little Fairfax Ave. shop which Sebring opened in 1959 has now expanded into two buildings (which he owns), a staff of 10 cutters, two manicurists and six product merchandisers.

-:-

THE BOSS HIMSELF still manages to style or trim 32 to 40 heads a week. His newest convert is Henry Fonda.

"I've brought him from the Old World into the New World," says Sebring, who looks like a young James Mason and speaks in tones as soft and casual as his hairdos.

"The way a man wears his hair has a psychological effect on how he acts," Sebring maintains. "I think Adolf Hitler's severe hair style had a lot to do with his power over the German masses. Some day I want to prove the power of a hair style by working with juvenile delinquents."

It is also Sebring's belief that a man's hair is the most important item in maintaining his career longevity, simply because he cannot rely on makeup.

Out Of The Air

By HAL HUMPHREY

The Hairier The Merrier

The only genuine "new look" to hit television in the past five or six years has been created by 33-year-old Jay Sebring, a barber who prefers to be called a men's hair stylist.

Hal Humphrey

A Sebring haircut (or copy by one of his many disciples) is as easy to spot as a mini-skirt or a tiger in your gas tank. Instead of the old backward pompadour, the hair goes forward or at least on a 45-degree bias.

-:-

THERE IS usually what Sebring calls a casual part in it, meaning you cannot see the scalp. Also the hair is loose, or almost fluffy.

In fact, this Sebring haircut has become so standard among the males on TV now that its creator is bringing out a new version to break the monotony. A sample of it will be modeled by Sebring himself, who is appearing in tonight's Part 2 episode of "Batman" 7.30.

He is typecast as a bar—I mean hair stylist, named Seymour Oceanbring to whom Catwoman (Julie Newmar) brings her henchmen for a trim.

"You will see by mine that the hair will be longer and looser, a little more flamboyant or tossed," Sebring explains. "It might be called a 'modified mod' style, similar to Bobby Kennedy', except I would give him a much better haircut. His hair lengths aren't even."

-:-

SEBRING is appalled over what pass as haircuts for all of our leading politicians, including President Johnson', which he describes as "much too conservative and close to the head."

Despite Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's acting background, Sebring says his hair could look much better with the right styling.

"It is too harsh the way he has it now," he says.

The very sight of Ed Sullivan or Lawrence Welk on his TV screen sets Sebring's scissors fingers to itching. Whoever cuts their hair would be hanged by his own and flogged with razor stops if Sebring had his way.

Uneven lengths of hair plastered down with some kind of stickum is not even a cheap excuse for a haircut in Sebring's world of hair styling.

Among his charter customers are Steve McQueen, Paul Newman, Jim Garner, Bobby Darin, Eddie Fisher and Steve Allen. Robert (Man From U.N.C.L.E.) Vaughn is one of those who let Sebring style his hair, then switched to a Sebring student who is less expensive.

A Sebring original now costs $50. Each trim after that is $26, which he considers extremely reasonable for any male who is spending upward of $200 for a suit of clothes. The little Fairfax Ave. shop which Sebring opened in 1959 has now expanded into two buildings (which he owns), a staff of 10 cutters, two manicurists and six product merchandisers.

-:-

THE BOSS HIMSELF still manages to style or trim 32 to 40 heads a week. His newest convert is Henry Fonda.

"I've brought him from the Old World into the New World," says Sebring, who looks like a young James Mason and speaks in tones as soft and casual as his hairdos.

"The way a man wears his hair has a psychological effect on how he acts," Sebring maintains. "I think Adolf Hitler's severe hair style had a lot to do with his power over the German masses. Some day I want to prove the power of a hair style by working with juvenile delinquents."

It is also Sebring's belief that a man's hair is the most important item in maintaining his career longevity, simply because he cannot rely on makeup.

Police, Firemen Set To Walk Out

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Leaders of a mass-resignation movement say they hope to present the city administration with resignations of 75 per cent of Canton's 340 police and firemen.

Decision to go ahead with the plan for mass resignations as a final protest in a wage dispute was made Wednesday at a meeting attended by 136 off-duty police and firemen.

Leaders of the movement declined to say how many men signed the resignation forms at the end of the meeting. They said it might take a couple of days to contract all firemen and policemen for signatures.

No one would say whether the resignations would be submitted if the supporters failed to collect 75 per cent.

The police and fire representatives have turned down city council's offer of a $500-yearly pay boost and are demanding a $600 increase. Present pay ranges from $6,300 a year for patrolmen and firemen to $11,000 for chiefs of the two departments.

The first badminton club was formed at Bath, England, in 1873.

Stand Held By Africans On Rhodesia

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — African members of the U.N. Security Council reportedly have refused to drop demands that Britain use force to cut off Rhodesia's oil supply despite Western warnings such demands are doomed to defeat.

Informed sources said Britain has failed to persuade the three African members, Nigeria, Uganda and Mali, to abandon their attempt to draft such an amendment onto the British resolution calling for mandatory sanctions against 12 Rhodesian exports, not including oil.

The amendment introduced this week with the blessings of the 38 African U.N. members demands that Britain "prevent by all means the transport to Southern Rhodesia of oil products."

Lord Caradon of Britain, who spent most of Wednesday in consultation with the African council members, was said to have pointed out that Britain would have to throw a naval blockade around all of Southern Africa to enforce such a ban.

"The whole idea is unrealistic," said a source close to the British delegation. "Even if Britain had the warships available for such a massive blockade, she would refuse to take a step certain to bring her into direct confrontation with South Africa and Portugal."

South Africa, which has been supplying much of Rhodesia's oil since Rhodesian Prime Minister Ian Smith declared independence 13 months ago, is Britain's fourth biggest trading partner.

Shriver Declares He Has No Plans To Resign Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver says he has no plans to resign as head of the federal antipoverty agency. But to hear him tell it, neither is he sure how long he'll remain on the job.

It sounds confusing, and Shriver agrees.

"That's why I dislike talking about it," the head of the Office of Economic Opportunity said in an interview. "Every time I discuss the subject, it becomes more confusing because my statements are misinterpreted by someone."

He did attempt to clarify the situation.

"I have no immediate plans," he said. "I'm not dissatisfied with my work. I don't want to sound like an egotist or anything like that but I do believe we've done a whole lot here."

But: "I'm like everybody else, I guess," he said. "I look around and I have got some very fine offers. We all love to go on to bigger and better things, you know, finding the big challenge.

"I have always liked to feel that anytime President Kennedy (Shriver's brother-in-law) or President Johnson wanted to assign me to other duties or to replace me, they could do so without having any difficulty."

Accord Ends Strike At Kaiser's Facility

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A full work force returned to the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp's plant in nearby Heath at midnight Wednesday following a strike that idled about 1,800 workers.

Picket lines were withdrawn as striking pipefitters reached a settlement with the company. No details were given.

Pipefitters in the plant's United Steelworkers Union local struck Monday protesting plumbing work being done at the plant by an outside contractor.

The walkout was called unauthorized by both sides.

Mother Free On Bond In Draft Bribe Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Lorain mother charged with offering a $200 bribe to the chairman of her son's draft board was released on $1,000 bond Wednesday after arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Clifford E. Bruce.

Bruce scheduled a Jan. 10 hearing for Mrs. Helen Matejcik, 51, whom the government accused of trying to get the board to spare her son, Allen, 21, a physical examination and possible reclassification. The bribe was offered Sept. 26, according to the U.S. Attorney's office.

For open - face sandwiches, spread buttered toast with baked beans and top with grated cheddar cheese, making sure the cheese covers the edges of the bread slices. Broil slowly so the beans heat and the cheese melts.

SIZES

By ANNE ADAMS

Isn't it wonderful? Pin tucks are so easy to sew, and they turn a simple sheath into one of this season's gala fashions. Choose shantung weave rayon, crepe, wool.

Printed Pattern 4922: Misses' Sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, 18. Size 14 takes 2¾ yards 39-in.

Send 50 cents in coins for this pattern to Anne Adams in care of the East Liverpool Review, 49 Pattern Dept. 243 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address, size and the style number. Add 15 cents for each pattern for first-class mailing and special handling.

Shriver Declares He Has No Plans To Resign Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sargent Shriver says he has no plans to resign as head of the federal antipoverty agency. But to hear him tell it, neither is he sure how long he'll remain on the job.

It sounds confusing, and Shriver agrees.

"That's why I dislike talking about it," the head of the Office of Economic Opportunity said in an interview. "Every time I discuss the subject, it becomes more confusing because my statements are misinterpreted by someone."

He did attempt to clarify the situation.

"I have no immediate plans," he said. "I'm not dissatisfied with my work. I don't want to sound like an egotist or anything like that but I do believe we've done a whole lot here."

But: "I'm like everybody else, I guess," he said. "I look around and I have got some very fine offers. We all love to go on to bigger and better things, you know, finding the big challenge.

"I have always liked to feel that anytime President Kennedy (Shriver's brother-in-law) or President Johnson wanted to assign me to other duties or to replace me, they could do so without having any difficulty."

Accord Ends Strike At Kaiser's Facility

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—A full work force returned to the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corp's plant in nearby Heath at midnight Wednesday following a strike that idled about 1,800 workers.

Picket lines were withdrawn as striking pipefitters reached a settlement with the company. No details were given.

Pipefitters in the plant's United Steelworkers Union local struck Monday protesting plumbing work being done at the plant by an outside contractor.

The walkout was called unauthorized by both sides.

Mother Free On Bond In Draft Bribe Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Lorain mother charged with offering a $200 bribe to the chairman of her son's draft board was released on $1,000 bond Wednesday after arraignment before U.S. Commissioner Clifford E. Bruce.

Bruce scheduled a Jan. 10 hearing for Mrs. Helen Matejcik, 51, whom the government accused of trying to get the board to spare her son, Allen, 21, a physical examination and possible reclassification. The bribe was offered Sept. 26, according to the U.S. Attorney's office.

For open - face sandwiches, spread buttered toast with baked beans and top with grated cheddar cheese, making sure the cheese covers the edges of the bread slices. Broil slowly so the beans heat and the cheese melts.

FORD For Capable Service For Customer Satisfaction

IN CHESTER

You'll Be Satisfied With These 7 Steps

1. • Accurately diagnose the repairs needed on your car.
2. • Secure your authorization to do the work before starting.
3. • Notify you in advance of any additional work we think should be done.
4. • Perform all the work on your car as efficiently and as economically as possible and replace only those parts which in our judgment need replacing.
5. • Road test your car after the work is done.
6. • Have your car ready on time.
7. • Provide you with an itemized bill showing exactly what work was done and exactly what it cost.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Dec. 15, the 349th day of 1966. There are 16 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1791, the first 10 amendments to the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, were declared in force. Twelve amendments were passed by Congress, but two failed to be ratified.

On this date:

In 1916, French forces defeated the Germans at the Battle of Verdun during World War I.

In 1919, the National Prohibition Act was upheld unanimously by the Supreme Court.

In 1941, the Philippine National Assembly declared a total emergency in the Philippine Islands.

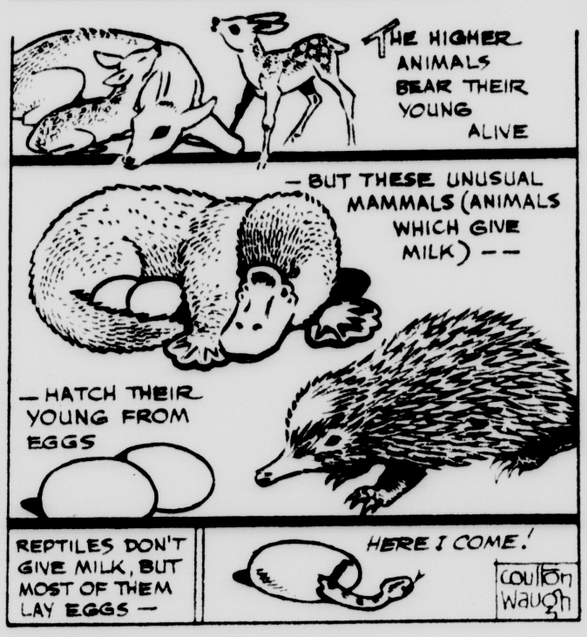
In 1944, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a pension bill for the benefit of widows of World War I veterans.

Ten years ago — The Army would not confirm nor deny a report that it had fired a rocket that attained twice the speed and height of any previous man-made mechanical object. An Army test missile reportedly had soared to an altitude of 650 miles and had traveled at speeds up to 15,000 miles an hour.

Five years ago—President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy flew to San Juan, P.R., their first stop on a weekend trip to countries in Latin America.

One year ago — Two manned American space capsules—Geminis 6 and 7 orbited the earth, flying six to 10 feet apart in man's first space rendezvous.

Junior Editors Quiz on ODD MAMMALS



QUESTION: Is the Platypus the only mammal that lays eggs?

ANSWER: No, there is another little creature, also a mammal (meaning it gives milk to its young) which also lays eggs. This is the echidna or spiny anteater, which, like the platypus, is found in Australia and New Guinea. Scientists call these two kinds of animals monotremes and place them at the bottom of the ladder of mammal development. But the monotremes, lowly though may be, are among the most interesting and unusual animals in the world. Consider the very large number of other mammals—dogs, cats, horses and so on—and not one of them lays eggs! The monotremes are also remarkable in that the males have sharp claws by which they can inject a poison in much the manner of a poisonous snake. Scientists consider them to be distantly related to the cold-blooded reptiles, most of which lay eggs. One of the reasons for this idea is that the body heat of the monotremes is lower than that of other mammals. But then, the reptiles don't give milk! The monotremes occupy a freakish position in the animal world, all by themselves.
